Road crash kills Mrs. Lockridge

Mrs. Lillian E. Lockridge, 61, of 2112 Manley Ave., was injured fatally when her car and a 70,000 pound tractor-trailer collided on Route 3 north of West Pontoon Road at 1:10 p.m. Monday.

The accident occurred 250 feet north of where Missouri Avenue (formerly Route 3) joins the present Route 3 (formerly Route 151).

According to witnesses and the driver of the truck, Robert Mills, Bureau, Ill., Mrs. Lockridge's auto was on the east shoulder of the roadway and started to pull onto the road as the northbound truck approached.

Mills said he turned the truck into the left lane to give her room to pull out, but the car then turned left and stopped in front of the tractor-trailer, blocking both northbound lanes. Mills locked the wheels on the truck and tried to swerve to the right-hand lane, but was unable to avoid striking the left side of the car. Police said the truck left about 200 feet of skid marks.

Dr. Shaw chancellor

Kenneth A. Shaw, the current president of SIU at Edwardsville, was named Tuesday afternoon as the permanent chancellor of the Southern Illinois University system, it was announced by Harris Rowe, chairman of the Board of Trustees.

Dr. Shaw, 40, was one of four final candidates whose recent campus visits were hosted by the Chancellor Search Assistance Council.

Under the chairmanship of Professor Keith Sanders, the Council, which was composed of representatives of constituencies here and at Carbondale, scrutinized the qualifications of over 200 applicants.

The appointment by SIU's board at a special meeting on the Carbondale campus Tuesday climaxed a search that began last March, a month after the trustees formally changed the overall system governing apparatus.

"Dr. Shaw has been chosen," Rowe said, "not only because of his past accomplishments at SIUE and other universities, but also because of his insight into the needs of the region and the state. It is our judgment that he has shown a capacity to get the chancellorship off to a sound, effective start."

In his remarks of acceptance, Dr. Shaw emphasized "the momentum that is present at both universities in the system."

He commended the strengths he had perceived at both Carbondale and Edwardsville.

42¢ cut in tax rate for schools

Taxes are likely to be, but there are still far too many, certainities regarding Granite City school budgeting for 1979-80, school officials said last night with an eye toward Springfield, where state legislators will return next week. The Board of Education set its tentative budget at $23,966,929, a reduction of $893,940. School tax levies may drop from $9,344,521 to $6,775,500, with another $2,575,569 coming from a tax replacing the corporate personal property tax. But the General Assembly and governor have not yet agreed on the final form of the replacement tax. If the $171,568,941 assessment base (not counting $75,640,615 in corporate personal property and certain stock) rises to $190 million, the $3.78 combined school tax rate on each $100 valuation will drop from $3.78 to $3.3555. Of this 42-cent decrease, 37.2 cents is due to the retirement of District Nine's bond debt, and the other 4.32 cents is a reduction in the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund tax rate. Remaining after their maximums will be the $2.55 rate for the education fund, 37.5 cents for operations, building and maintenance, 12 cents for transportation, five cents for life safety remodeling and five cents for working cash. If the valuation is less than $190 million, the rate can increase only in the IMFAR agreement. The proposed levies are subject to revision after the replacement tax issue is resolved. Mechanics of the new taxation process are unknown at this time, it was stressed. Negotiations with school employees also remain to be completed. A public hearing on the new budget is to be held at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 4. Tentative approval was voted unanimously by the board last night.

A discussion brought out that instructional administrative costs are down 5.7 percent, or 7.5 percent not counting built-in pay boosts.

School Supt. B. J. Davis said, "The board has attempted over the past several years to stem the tide of deficit financing. Had these efforts not been somewhat successful, the district would be either much deeper in a financial crisis or would be without many programs and with fewer staff members than we have at the present time."

This budget represents a projected decrease in the overall tax rate, due to

No Venice raises budgeted

By MICK STRANGE
City employees of Venice will not receive a raise during the 1979-80 fiscal year.

A new budget approved by the City Council Tuesday night totals $1,210,362 which is $30,856 less than the 1978-'79 budget of $1,241,218.

Mayor Tyrone Echols told council members that city employees will have to forego a raise this year as the city will have the funds available.

Items left out of the budget entirely this year and the amount budgeted last year are: summer recreation program, $6,000; elections, $2,220 and sewers, $22,000.

It was noted by City Attorney Harry Hartman that if money is not forthcoming there are many items budgeted that will not be purchased. As an example, he noted that $50,000 has been put in the budget for new equipment for the street department for the last three years, but the money has not been available.

"You have to have items in the budget, because if you do not have the money appropriated you can not spend it, even if you have it," Hartman said.

The street department budget was raised by $72,286, from $187,883 to $260,169.

At the Tuesday meeting $25,287 was added to the tentative budget.

This addition was made to provide salaries for laborers in the event that the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) under the manpower program will not replace workers who are being terminated Sept. 30.

The additional money budgeted would allow for three laborers for seven months.

Mayor Tyrone Echols expressed doubts that the city would get any new CETA workers.

Other departments that show an increase over the 1978-'79 budget are: police department from $305,960 to $313,845, up $7,885; lighting from $16,000 to $17,000, up $1,000;

City hall from $44,282 to $46,677, up $2,415; police pension fund from $67,079 to $106,415, up $19,342; Illinois Municipal Retirement from $65,000 to $80,000, up $15,000.

Budget reductions are: fees, salaries and expenses of city officers from

1.5% '80 multiplier?

A 1.5 percent multiplier on Granite City real estate is in prospect for 1980 tax collection, Madison County Supervisor of Assessments James Barton told Granite City Rotarians at their weekly luncheon Tuesday at the YMCA.

With inflation continuing to have an impact on land, building and home values, the state has made clear it will set a countywide multiplier unless township assessors and the county equalize assessments and achieve a one-third-of-value assessing average, Barton said.

He said he is advising each of the 24 assessors of the scope of the valuation increases believed to be necessary in their communities. If they do not take sufficient action in this regard, the county—himself and the Board of Review—will respond with township multipliers to avoid a countywide multiplier, the club was told.

In instances where a particular parcel of property already is assessed at 33-1/3, a 1.5 percent multiplier seems unfair because it has the effect of raising that valuation to 38-1/3, Barton acknowledged. He said the only alternative is for all property within a township to be brought up to a uniform level.

A former Granite City township assessor, Barton said he would welcome not having to recommend a township-wide multiplier here. He added that he thinks the present township staff is trying to attain uniformity, but that the books were due in June and not much more time can be allowed before they must be submitted.

Unless an immense volume of detailed work can be done within a short period of time, a multiplier is inevitable, he added. Some townships have done little to alter their assessment listings to conform with present sales values, he related.

Irresponsible news reporting by Missourians created such a climate at the County Courthouse that opinions were changed and officials' hands have been tied regarding needed correction of errors of judgment in setting assessments, Barton told the gathering, clarifying state legislation has been promised but not yet adopted.

As a result, it is especially important that property owners contact the county promptly if there is an error in the value of their real estate as published in township listings this summer or early fall, the speaker asserted.

If the 30-day complaint period passes without a formal request for a hearing, the only kind of error that can be corrected later is an obvious mistake in arithmetic; after the year-long cycle has been completed and tax bills have been mailed, it is too late to change valuations on the basis of judgment, Barton emphasized.

Leon Scroggins introduced the speaker, and President Darryl Slater presided.

Plans for the Camelot auction Oct. 6, sponsored annually by Optimists and Rotarians, were reviewed by Tom Thebeau, co-chairman.

The newest of the 83 club members, Russell Porter, an employee of American Colloid, presented a brief autobiography. Slater said attendance is averaging about 80 percent.

Juries—trial and grand

Juries serve a key role in the criminal justice system, but the roles of the grand jury and the petit or trial jury are quite different. This difference is often misunderstood by the general public, according to the Illinois State Bar Association.

There are only a few similarities between the grand and petit jury. Two of these similarities consist of the manner in which the juries are summoned and in the qualifications of individual jurors.

For both types of juries, the members are chosen randomly, usually from voter registration lists. To qualify, the prospective juror must live in the jurisdiction of the county, be 18 years old or older, be physically able to serve, understand English, and generally be of good character and integrity.

The differences between the juries arise out of the purpose or duty each jury performs.

PURPOSE
The grand jury is used in criminal cases only. It is more an investigatory body, which considers evidence presented only by the prosecutor and from statements of witnesses and the accused.

A grand jury's duty is not to decide guilt or innocence, but only whether there is "probable cause" (enough evidence) to charge the accused with a crime.

If probable cause is found, the accused will then be indicted and bound over for trial.

The petit jury is used in civil and criminal cases. The petit jury's deliberations take place during a trial, and it hears evidence given in support of both sides of the issue presented in an adversary manner by opposing attorneys.

Its duty is to hand down a decision in favor of one side or the other in a civil case (if it finds for the plaintiff, it must also determine the amount of damages).

In a criminal case, its duty is to return a verdict of innocent or guilty.

DURATION OF JURY DUTY
A grand jury sits until discharged by the court, but not for more than 18 months. It may be summoned on and off during this period to hear evidence on several different cases.

A petit or trial jury sits only until the completion of the particular trial for which it was summoned. Once summoned, a prospective juror may serve on more than one jury.

POWERS
Grand jurors have the power to ask questions of the witnesses and the accused. A grand jury has the power to subpoena witnesses and documents, and the power to grant immunity from prosecution to persons who are compelled to testify.

Petit jurors have no comparative powers such as the above grand jury powers.

Other important differences, according to the ISBA, include the number of jurors that make up each body.

The petit jury has the familiar 12, all of whom must agree on the verdict, while the number of jurors in the grand jury is 23 and 12 of these 23 must agree on whether there is probable cause to charge the accused with the crime in question.

Finally, grand jury proceedings are confidential to protect the anonymity of witnesses and encourage uninhibited testimony.

Petit jury proceedings are open to the public, with the exception of jury deliberations on the verdict which are made in secrecy.

Benefit tourney for Junior Miss program

Wilson Park was the scene of a benefit tennis tournament held Saturday. Entry fees for the tournament were donated to the Junior Miss Program.

Mrs. Judy Sparks supervised the event, the proceeds of which will go towards a $500 college scholarship for the new Granite City Junior Miss.

Merchants donating goods for the event included Earl's Discount and Mendoza's sporting goods stores, House of Trophies and Coca-Cola of St. Louis.

Trophies were awarded to Merry Triant, (first place), Elsie Kokotovich, (second place), and Debbie Vankirk, (consolation bracket).

Others participating in the tournament were Louise Dodd, Virginia Bozarth, Clabbe Briggs, Nancy Barnes, Tina Sinauer, Judi Sparks, Carol Donahue, Marge Salem, Jackie Dezort, Lee Suarez, Wilma Schulze, Carol Squires and Sandy Krumm.

Betty Testor, chairman of the pageant committee, said that she and her committee were pleased with the response they are getting from area residents and local merchants for the program. She said that anyone who would like to help with this year's pageant may call her at 797-0675. She said any women wishing to contribute to the pageant may contact Carolyn Yates, pageant co-chairman, at 931-0048.

Area senior high school girls who are interested in entering the contest may call Mrs. Testor for an application. The deadline for applicants is August 15.

Proverbs 12:30 "He that winneth souls is wise."

All Christians are commissioned to spread the gospel of Christ. We are not required to be ministers or teachers. The manner in which we can be most effective is the simple sharing of our own personal experience with Christ.

It is wise to win souls. It is wise to use the Bible as our guide. It is the Bible which teaches us that all have sinned and all need to be saved. You must first show them that they are lost. Our personal judgments and opinions do not count. All men stand or fall to God alone.

Knowing that we are fallen people is not enough. We must also know that God wants to restore us by His grace. This is the message of the Bible!

Be wise. Use your Bible; win souls; today.

Where are the prospective local college students?

August has barely begun, and thoughts of most people are on vacations, rather than schooling.

But if there is to be a full-fledged, busy, daytime college at Washington School, it is essential that Quad-Cityans and others let the Belleville Area College satellite office at Washington know of their college needs and wishes.

Registration began this week and will continue on a Monday through Friday basis next week and also Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 13 and 14. The fall term is to begin here Aug. 20.

Counselors are on duty 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. each weekday at Washington, West 20th Street and Nevada Avenue. Access to the site is to be improved through construction of a 19th Street overpass, which got a big boost yesterday from Granite City Steel and the city government.

Those signing up this week were not as numerous as expected, but the average number of classes selected was larger than anticipated. Many chose as many as 12 or 13 credit hours.

It is being emphasized that considerable financial aid is available to prospective students, and that BAC credit is accepted by most institutions, including SIUE and the University of Illinois.

Chouteau board backs Mitchell post office

A resolution asking the U.S. Postal Department to drop its plans for closing of the Mitchell Post Office was approved by the Chouteau Town Board of Trustees Monday night.

Petitions are being circulated throughout the Mitchell area supporting the local post office and will be turned over to Acting Granite City Postmaster Arthur Lawrence to use in supporting retention of the Mitchell branch office.

Chouteau Township Supervisor Walter "Dick" Sparks commented, "It is our understanding that postal officials plan to meet Aug. 6 in East St. Louis to determine the future of the Mitchell branch. We hope our resolution and petitions will aid in encouraging them not to close it."

The board voted to purchase a new $95 back-pack sprayer for the mosquito abatement program, plus the chemicals for the unit. Eugene Copper has been certified as an operator of mosquito spray equipment and is working to alleviate the mosquito problems in the township.

Sparks announced the township has received its first two installments of personal property taxes from the township collector. The road and bridge fund has received $6,081, the town fund has gotten $3,589 and the general assistance fund has received $3,719.

Sparks said the township also has received interest checks totaling $111 from revenue sharing deposits and $75 from the general assistance investments.

In order to meet a $6,000 pledge for the village of Hartford to put a fence around a playground, the board agreed to cash an $8,115 revenue sharing certificate of deposit and put the funds in the revenue sharing checking account. The township also has received a $5,497 check from the Madison County Emergency Services and Disaster Agency office to reimburse the highway department for work done during recent flooding. The money is the result of federal flood damage reimbursements approved by the county, Sparks reported.

It was announced that Chouteau Town Clerk Patricia Polley has been elected a trustee of the Madison County Township Officials Organization.

Early retirement program is reopened in GC schools

Teachers and administrators in the Granite City School District may take advantage of the district's early retirement program, which has been reopened.

While the amount teachers and administrators may receive by retiring early varies according to age and the number of years served, most will qualify to receive 80 percent of their salaries when they reach age 55, it was explained at last night's board of education meeting.

The early retirement incentive program (ERIP) ended June 30, but the board voted last night to reinstate it through Aug. 24, due to pending legislation in the Illinois General Assembly which would mandate a state early retirement program for teachers and administrators.

The state program "will be costly enough to make our ERIP impracticable financially or prohibitive," Gerald Brown, personnel director for the district, told the board.

In other business, the board approved the sale of additional tax anticipation warrants for the educational fund to meet obligations during August.

Tully A. Heubner, director of business affairs, explained that $2,085,378 in new taxes has been received, but that portion allocated for the educational fund had to be used to retire outstanding anticipation warrants and that account is without funds until additional taxes are received.

He said the issuance of the new anticipation warrants may not be necessary if more taxes are received, but he felt the board should give him the authority to issue them, if necessary, since the next meeting of the board will be Aug. 21 and it may be difficult to meet the district's obligations without borrowing during that period.

The board gave Heubner the authority, if necessary, to issue up to $35,000 in warrants for the remainder of this week, up to $145,000 for the week ending Aug. 10, and up to $500,000 for the week ending Aug. 17.

Heubner said the building should be able to operate on the $80,000 in warrants the board previously authorized and authorization for additional borrowing is not necessary.

Harold Hilmer, employee relations administrator for the school district, reported he and the board's negotiating committee have reached tentative agreement with Local 98 of the Building Service Employees' Union on a tentative contract for the upcoming school year.

The local represents the district's custodians and cafeteria workers.

The board agreed to seek bids on school bus service for the 1979-80 school year, but gave its approval to an 11.2 percent increase in the contract with R.W. Harmon and Sons for bus service.

It was explained that the district is in the third year of a three-year contract with the Harmon firm, but has until Jan. 15 to decide whether or not to extend its option for another year.

Attorney William Schooley suggested the board approve the 11.2 percent increase in the contract with Harmon firm allows an increase of up to 12 percent this year.

News notes Rainfall 4.85 inches in seven-day period

The U.S. House Ways and Means Committee on Monday approved 97.5 transitional rules for cities like Granite City to issue bonds for home mortgage programs.

Gov. Thompson yesterday signed a new law allowing teachers to live outside the districts in which they work.

Comptroller Roland Burris said Tuesday that there are enough funds on hand to permit ending the food and drug sales tax. The governor disagrees.

Fred "Bo" Beckman sued Wednesday to overturn a county board decision blocking him from converting a 14-room Collinsville area residence into a home for troubled teenage girls.

The East-West Gateway Council voted Wednesday to re-examine a 24-mile light railway computer system idea that it had dropped last year.

The 23rd Congressional District lost 1.6 percent of its population, dropping to 456,000, but is likely to remain intact after the 1980 census, adding some geographic territory from one or more other districts.

Eagle Park Fire District meeting

The Eagle Park Fire Protection District Board of Trustees will hold a public meeting at 12 noon Saturday at the Eagle Park Improvement Association Hall, 100 Hill St.

Herman Smith, board president, said funding for the newly created district will be the principal topic of business.

Residents will be invited to join in an open discussion, he added.

TRAFFIC BLOCKED

A Terminal Railroad Association train blocked all five Madison crossings between 13th and 14th streets this morning for nearly one hour. Traffic was blocked from approximately 7:40 a.m. until 8:30 a.m., according to a police spokesman. Traffic was backed up for several blocks. Cause of the blockage, according to a police spokesman, was due to a two-car derailment.

MAN HURT IN CRASH

Rodney Means, 20, of St. Louis, was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center for abrasions to the forehead due to an auto accident Monday. He was released.

A total of 4.85 inches of rain fell in the Quad-City area since July 26—a matter of seven days—according to weathervane records at the Chain of Rocks locks.

The rain was the heaviest concentration of precipitation in a brief period so far this year.

Records show a total of 1.50 inches of rain fell on Thursday, July 26, followed on Friday by another .25 of an inch and on Saturday by an additional 1.62 inches. On Monday, July 30, .28 of an inch was recorded and on July 31 precipitation totaled .45 of an inch.

This brought to 4.53 inches the total precipitation for the month of July, or 1.33 inches above the normal of 3.20 inches for that month.

July rainfall also included .03 of an inch on July 3, .40 of an inch on July 4, and .03 of an inch on July 14.

In addition to the July precipitation, rainfall of .50 of an inch was recorded Wednesday, and another .25 of an inch this morning. Rainfall recordings are made at the locks at 8 a.m. each day for the previous 24-hour period.

The July rain brought to 22.18 inches the total for the first seven months of the year, less than an inch above the normal of 21.27 inches for that period.

The barbecue is being sponsored by the church board as one of a series of monthly fellowship activities.

Carter nominates Beatty

Madison County Circuit Judge William L. Beatty of Granite City will be nominated to the U.S. District judgeship in Southern Illinois. President Carter announced in Washington Monday.

President Carter said he will make a formal nomination to the U.S. Senate for approval of the appointment.

Judge Beatty, 53, who has served on the Third Judicial Circuit bench for the past 10 years, said he believed he had been under an "unbelievably" intense investigation since May when he was selected by U.S. Sen. Adlai Stevenson as his nominee for the post.

The round of screenings was made by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the American Bar Association, the National Association for Advancement of Colored People and other groups.

Judge Beatty said that he had pleasant interviews with all of them and "I've had nothing that made me feel that they had any dissatisfaction with me."

He said he also is aware that his confirmation by the Senate is "not just formality" and that he anticipates another round of screenings.

Madison County Chief Circuit Judge Moses Harrison said he was "glad to hear" of Judge Beatty's nomination because "I know that is what he wants." He said he received the news with mixed emotions, however, because "we're losing a very fine judge. He (Beatty) is probably the best trial judge in the state of Illinois."

If his nomination is confirmed, Judge Beatty would fill a newly-created judgeship in the Southern Judicial District of Illinois. The post pays $54,000 per year.

The district includes the lower one-third of the state and has courthouses in East St. Louis, Alton and Benton.

Judge Beatty, who has been widely praised for his fairness as a circuit judge, was elected a Madison County circuit judge 10 years ago. He is a Democrat. He said that his nomination is approved, he expects to remain on the circuit court bench until about a week before the transition.

Judge Beatty primarily has handled civil cases in circuit court, but also has presided over felony cases in criminal actions.

Prior to his election as circuit judge, Beatty practiced law in Granite City for 18 years, was an assistant state's attorney and served as corporation counsel for Granite City.

Dr. Shaw

Edwardsville, saying, "There is every reason for both universities to be proud. 'The momentum I have spoken of can continue because the two universities are equipped to meet the challenges of the '80s and beyond. It will continue, and the chancellor and his staff will be a positive force in seeing that it does.'"

In addition, Shaw stressed the "dynamic presence" of the SIU system, which offers degree programs from the associate through the doctoral level. He pointed out that the system's presence "is not limited to Edwardsville but extends to the entire state."

In terms of academic programs and public service activities, the system reaches out to communities throughout the state, from Carmi to Chicago, the nation, from New Jersey and Florida to California, and the world, from Egypt to Nepal.

Turning to immediate goals, he said, "The major test that will face all of us is fostering the creative tensions between autonomy for Carbondale and Edwardsville and the need for a coordinated system. Such a system will be viable only if it protects the integrity and growth of its parts. However, like a natural ecosystem, there are times when the good of the whole must take precedence."

He urged keeping "operational decision-making at the appropriate level of interest and responsibility. This means that local decisions should be made locally."

Calling for cooperation from everyone concerned with the needs and best interests of SIU, Dr. Shaw concluded with the pledge that "I will do all within my power to insure that this momentum continues," noting that "the citizens of this region and state deserve no less. I ask that we all join together to insure that the momentum already in force in this dynamic presence 'will continue.'"

Prior to assuming the presidency at SIUE, Shaw was vice-president of Towson State University from 1969 to 1977, and assistant to the president of Illinois State University from 1966 to 1969.

Group hopes to block partly-built mid-Illinois nuclear power plant

Alton Telegraph — In the lake looked like some exotic city of the future. Illinois summer day, the huge mass of steel and concrete next to a sparkling construction site is something of a city unto itself — it even has its own street signs.

On the other side of the 5,000-acre lake, a sleek "Visitors' Center" stands completed. It is equipped with an auditorium to show films boosting the nuclear behemoth.

Attractive female Illinois Power employees dispense slick brochures assuring visitors nuclear power is safer and cheaper than other kinds.

When Illinois Power decided to build the plant in 1972, there was minimal organized opposition to nuclear power plants. The utility got all its permits and started construction in 1976 before the storm of protest broke.

Now, of course, IP and every other utility building a nuclear plant is faced with increasingly vigorous and well-organized opposition. The opposition to nuclear power could well be the big social issue of the next decade, succeeding opposition to the Vietnam war and general concerns about the environment.

The nuclear opponents have shifted tactics in recent months. Peter Penner, a founder and leader of Prairie Alliance, the Champaign-Urbana-centered group that is probably the leading anti-nuclear lobby in Illinois, discussed tactics at a Springfield meeting last week.

Penner said the anti-nuke "movement" now generally considers ineffective such direct action as picketing or attempts to physically block construction or deliveries, as was done at the Seabrook plant in New Hampshire.

Prairie Alliance and other anti-nuke groups have won public support by concentrating not on environmental or safety warnings but appealing to the pocketbook: The big escalation in nuclear plant costs will mean higher electric rates.

At a meeting in which he tried to organize a Springfield chapter of Prairie Alliance, Penner was ecstatic over developments in Illinois Power's current rate increase request before the Illinois Commerce Commission.

The request includes "construction work in progress" (CWIP) money to pay off part of the cost IP has already incurred on the Clinton plant.

One of the major reasons Prairie Alliance members are on Cloud 9 is because two ICC staff analysts this month flatly recommended denial of the CWIP portion of the rate increase. They charged IP with mismanagement of the Clinton construction. The original estimated cost of $430 million has jumped by 40 percent to $613 million and the ICC officials predicted it could eventually be another billion dollars more. ICC staff testimony is normally discreetly cautious and technical, which is why the bluntness of the statements on IP and the Clinton plant were so remarkable.

IP officials also seemed defensive when they called a press conference at the Clinton Visitors' Center.

Previously, the company had generally refused to even acknowledge Prairie Alliance charges, but now its executive vice-president was specifically responding to the group.

Prairie Alliance certainly will fight the plant every inch of the way. "Everything I do, I think what in the world is going to stop that nuke that's 40 percent complete," Penner told the Springfield group. Prairie Alliance already has found five disgruntled former workers at Clinton and got them to sign statements alleging mismanagement and deliberate construction cost add-ons.

The group, in what has to be sheer wishful thinking, recently alleged IP is considering how to back off and change the plant into a coal-fired facility. Vice President William Gerstner made it absolutely clear that was not feasible. Changing to coal-fired generators he said, would require scrapping the $600 million worth of construction already completed and starting all over again.

Virtually all the materials have been delivered and hundreds of acres are filled with stacks of metal rods, huge pumps and turbines and dozens of metal buildings. Meanwhile, 3,500 construction workers report daily to the sparkling lake on the prairie, building Central Illinois' first nuclear power plant.

To defy occupancy ruling

Mrs. Barbara Guest, 22 Grenzer Homes, Madison, said Wednesday that Madison Building Inspector John Dutko told her he would inspect the house she bought at 1025 Market St. at 11 a.m. today.

Dutko could not be reached for comment. Mrs. Guest has filed a federal discrimination suit against Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk, Dutko and the city of Madison.

She said she has to move into the house by midnight Sunday or lose her insurance on the structure.

Mrs. Guest said she would use candles if necessary, but that she can not afford paying rent and house payments. Mrs. Guest works at Granite City Steel and has three children.

The Madison Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) is setting up a legal defense fund to aid Mrs. Guest.

mainly to the district paying off the last of its bonds for new construction.

"However, the district does need to consider a new bond issue to bring in revenue for maintenance and repair of our existing buildings and the possible addition of special use facilities, such as vocational shops."

"The present funds available to the district from the Operations, Building and Maintenance Fund are insufficient to allow for the major repairs needed by the various buildings now scheduled for continued operations, let alone new special use facilities."

"This must be considered by the patrons of our district, and if it is not favorably accepted, a continuing deterioration of physical plants will occur."

"The staff employed by the district has declined due to the loss of pupil population and the closing of three elementary schools this year," Supt. Davis noted.

"In the area of programs, we are proposing no major changes that entail large capital outlays."

"Staff members have had opportunities for input into this budget. However, the bulk of the work has been carried out by Tully Heubner."

"This year's budget has undoubtedly been one of the most difficult to develop. With the loss of the corporate personal property tax — its effects still not known — and the changing of the state aid formula — not known until late July — the projecting of revenues has been next to impossible."

"Hopefully, the state will put its business houses in order and allow its local units a measure of assurance in determining the financial projections in the next fiscal year prior to the end of the legislative session or special sessions."

The following resolutions are presented to the Board of Education for approval:

New inspection Pulianas promoted by National Steel

Decision as to how many taxicabs owned by the Checker Cab Co. of Granite City will be permitted to operate will depend upon another city inspection that was scheduled to get under way this morning.

Chief of Police Ronald Veizer said today's inspection, the second since Monday, is to determine what repairs have been made by the cab firm's owners to five cabs that failed to pass inspection Monday.

Veizer said two cabs were approved for operation in the Monday checkup.

Erason McIntyre, operator of the cab company, said he renewed operations Monday afternoon following a meeting with Mayor Paul Schuler concerning a city ordinance increasing the schedule of taxicab fares.

The ordinance, which has been delayed in passage because of complaints about the mechanical condition of some of the company's equipment.

The cab firm's drivers left their jobs during the weekend, after Vernon McIntyre, president and operator of the company, was told by Chief of Police Veizer that which his company could not charge a higher schedule of cab fees until an ordinance providing the increase was given final passage by the City Council.

McIntyre said that when he told his drivers about the order, they left their jobs and said they would return to work when the higher cab rates became effective. The operator admitted that the company had "jumped the gun" in charging the new higher rates "because we thought the matter had been decided."

Mayor Paul Schuler met with McIntyre Monday and arranged for city mechanics to inspect the company's cabs. McIntyre said the mayor told him the complaints about the condition of the company's cabs were the important issue.

Of six cabs put through the inspection, two were passed, McIntyre said.

Following the inspection, the operator said, the men offered to return to their jobs until the next council session Tuesday, Aug. 7, when the council is expected to act on final passage of the ordinance providing the higher schedule of taxicab fares.

The drivers agreed to operate under the old fare schedule until then, he noted.

"I am right in the middle in this thing," McIntyre added. "The city wants us to upgrade the cabs, but we can't until we can make more money. With gasoline and repair costs what they are, it is impossible for us to do anything until our income is improved."

The city ordinance provides an increase of 35 cents across the board in the first five travel zones. The present minimum fare in the first zone is $1.15, which will increase to $1.50. The maximum fare in the fifth zone under the new schedule will be $2.50.

The cab firm's drivers left their jobs during the weekend after McIntyre was told by Veizer that the company could not charge higher scheduled cab fees until an ordinance providing the increase was given final passage by the City Council.

Effective Aug. 15, George Pulianas has been appointed National Steel Corp. vice president — administration, replacing J. E. Hass.

Pulianas will assume corporate responsibility for the Purchasing, Traffic and Transportation, Steel Planning and Cost Improvement activities.

His appointment will permit an orderly transition of staff administrative responsibilities and coincide with Hass' planned attendance at the Harvard Advanced Management Program, a spokesman said.

Pulianas joined National Steel in 1959 as assistant controller, Midwest Steel Division.

He was promoted to vice president — administration of Granite City Steel in 1972 and advanced through a number of key executive positions.

In March 1977, Pulianas was assigned to the Weirton Steel Division as vice president and controller and was subsequently elevated to executive vice president at Weirton in November 1977.

Pulianas holds a bachelor

of science degree from Bucknell University and is a graduate of the Harvard Advanced Management Program.

While assigned to the Granite City Steel Division, Pulianas was active in several community programs. He was campaign chairman of the successful 1974 Tri-Cities Area United Way drive, and was a member of the board of governors of St. Elizabeth Hospital, Granite City.

Mechanics strike is averted

Auto dealer mechanics of Madison and St. Clair counties will meet in Granite City Saturday morning to vote on ratification of a three-year contract which already has been approved by union stewards.

The stewards, including representatives of the mechanics in each of the dealer agencies, voted late Tuesday night to accept a proposal offered by the auto dealers earlier that day. The action averted a strike scheduled at midnight Tuesday.

While neither union officials nor the dealers would discuss the wage increase finally offered and accepted by the stewards, the union had rejected earlier an offer of $1.90 per hour. It was reported, however, that the final offer was less than the $2.50 per hour demanded by the union.

The stewards are expected to recommend acceptance of the contract in the membership meeting here Saturday. Bo Buckman, president of Buckman Ford Co. in Collinsville and chairman of the dealers' negotiating committee, said he understood the proposed contract was approved by about two-thirds of the stewards attending the meeting late Tuesday night.

In addition to higher wages, the mechanics also asked for improved fringe benefits. Buckman said the increased benefits offered the mechanics amount to 46 cents an hour.

The mechanics are members of Machinists District 9. Mechanics belonging to the same union in Missouri ratified a new two-year contract early this week. It is similar to the Illinois proposal.

GC Steel

Steel's expenditures for funding the bond issue against any payments due should an energy tax be reinstated at any time in the next 10 years.

The city has received $3.9 million from other funding sources to build the 19th Street overpass and had originally hoped to get the remainder of the estimated $5.2 million total cost from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. The energy tax was authorized after HUD rejected the city's grant application.

Walter said the steel company's proposal also calls for the City of Granite City to credit Granite City for the retirement of the bonds at the end of 10 years.

Granite City is to rescind its authorization of a ½ of 1 percent tax against the gas and electric power bills of residents and industries in Granite City. With the first $100 of each month's bill exempt from the tax, most of the burden would have fallen on large volume users, including Granite City Steel.

Walter said the steel company's proposal also calls for the City of Granite City to credit Granite City overpass," Walter said, "and finally decided the best way to maintain Granite City Steel's longtime good relationship with the city was to assume the cost of funding the bond issue, thus making the tax unnecessary."

West said the company's proposal calls for the bonds to be sold by the City of Granite City, with Granite City Steel's parent corporation, National Steel, guaranteeing to pay interest to the bond holders as it becomes due, and

$20,000 bond in burglary

Scott D. Rushing, 18, of 2503 Kirkpatrick Homes, was taken to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville at 12:40 a.m. Tuesday in lieu of a $20,000 bond on a burglary charge.

Rushing was arrested by a state trooper, Leo LaRose, allegedly inside Farmer's Market, East 23rd Street and Nameoki Road, at 5:35 a.m. Monday after a gate was forced open and an interior window was broken, according to official reports.

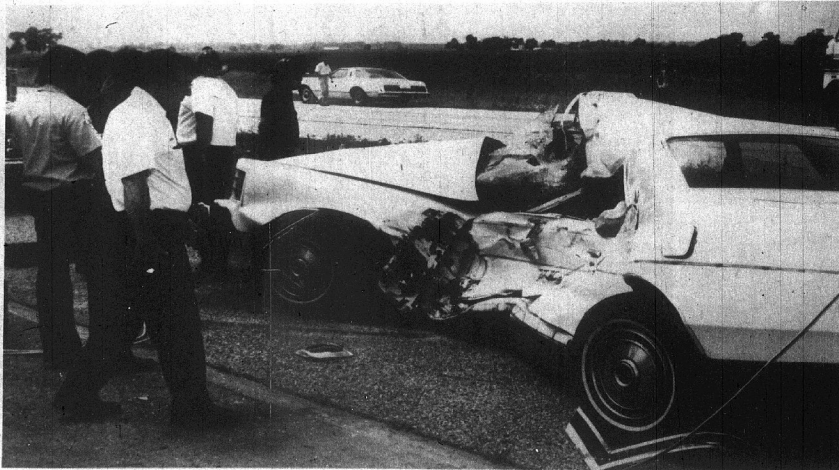

Trooper LaRose said he was southbound on Nameoki Road and stopped for the flashing traffic lights at East 23rd Street when he saw someone inside the market who ducked down to hide when the squad car approached.

LaRose drew his gun and ordered the young man, to come to the fence at the front of the store and the young man complied. LaRose then held him at gunpoint until Granite City police arrived to aid him. Rushing then was handcuffed and was taken to the Granite City police building.

Officers noted Rushing suffered three small cuts while inside the building, but did not require emergency room treatment.

The Madison County State's Attorney's office issued an informational document Monday afternoon charging Rushing with burglary and setting his bond at $20,000.

DEEP HOLES on Cemetery Road in Nameoki Township and in newly-annexed portions of Granite City were the reason for a tour of the area Tuesday by Nameoki Township Highway Commissioner Frank Mehelic, wearing hat in photo above, and Granite City Street Superintendent Lionel Portell, shown in both photos with Mehelic. The street officials expressed concern that contractors for new sanitary sewers have not made temporary repairs necessary to keep the roads safe for motor vehicles until permanent repairs are made. In the photo at the upper right, Mehelic points to a soft drink bottle he placed in a hole to show its depth on Cemetery Road, north of West Pontoon Road and west of Route 3. Above, the tracks from a tractor are visible in the pavement of one badly-damaged street. The contractor for the sewers has pledged to repair all damages caused by the construction equipment as soon as possible and to resurface damaged streets which were not in need of resurfacing when the sewer construction began.

Road repairs pledged, but by whom?

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

The question of who is responsible for repairing roads near where sanitary sewers have been installed is likely to be debated quite a bit this summer and fall, highway officials indicated Tuesday.

Nameoki Township Highway Commissioner Frank Mehelic and Granite City Street Superintendent Lionel Portell jointly inspected the Slough Road, Cemetery Road and Rock Road area Tuesday afternoon, finding large holes and damaged pavement in many areas near where sewers have been installed.

The highway officials agreed that the contractor for the sewers, S.M. Wilson & Co., should repair damages done by its equipment, but the determination of how much of the damage can be attributed to sewer construction is the main question.

"We can not take responsibility for every road in Madison County," Wayne Hellemeyer, project manager for the Wilson firm, told the Press-Record.

"There are hundreds of jobs on my list of things to do and we intend to start oil and chipping crews on the streets as soon as the weather dries out. However, the determination on how much we will have to do is according to what shape each road was in last year," Hellemeyer said.

"If the damage is due to our construction, we will take care of it. If the holes are due to a variety of problems, the highway officials will have to cooperate with us in the repairs. We are not the only ones using these roads. Garbage trucks use them, people using trucks to dump things use them," he added.

Mehelic contended Wilson is not doing enough patching to keep the roads passable until they can be permanently repaired. He showed holes in Cemetery Road up to four inches deep, adjacent to bulldozer tracks in the pavement, and said he has requested that the Wilson firm repair them, before someone breaks an axle or is hurt.

"I take my orders from the engineer, Sheppard, Morgan and Schwaab, not from the highway commissioners," Hellemeyer responded.

Mehelic said his crews used a truckload of patching material in the Cemetery Road and Rock Road area Monday, which barely scratched the surface of the problem.

"I am not going to spend a fortune in taxpayers' money to bring in loads or more of patching material in here to repair damage caused during the sewer construction," Mehelic stated.

Mehelic and Portell disagreed over which areas were in Granite City and which were in Nameoki Township, but said those questions can easily be resolved by studying maps of recent city annexations.

"You might as well take this road. You own the land on both sides of it," Mehelic told Portell during a drive on Rock Road. Recent annexation of an industrial tract owned by Illinois Power Co. along the west side of Route 3 across the Nameoki-Chouteau Township dividing line have left both Mehelic and Portell agreed to continue cooperation on the road, using snow removal as an example. "It doesn't make sense for us to plow half of the road and then to plow the other half if it is on a dividing line, so we cooperate," Portell said.

"Granite City will probably plow Rock Road and this area for Nameoki Township this winter and the township will do some city roads for us," the city's superintendent said.

The superintendents agreed that major disagreements with the contractor of the sewers may occur when the roads come up for final inspection when the sewer program is completed.

"They had better realize that we have to accept these roads when they are finished. They have to be up to our specifications. We will have the final say-so," Portell said.

Hellemeyer said every effort is being made to restore the roads to the condition they were in when sewer construction began. "We have patching crews out now in the Mitchell area and the oil and chipping crews will be out when the weather breaks," he pledged.

Press-Record feature by

He also said the holes on Rock Road and Cemetery Road, "are on my personal list of things to be done."

On an optimistic note, Hellemeyer said the Wilson firm is receiving adequate allocations of diesel fuel and is proceeding at full speed. He said there now is adequate fuel to run the pumps for dewatering wells, which will enable them to begin installing sewers in some areas where they could not work before, due to the high water table.

"These sewers are well designed and supported. They will last even though they are under water because the engineers did such a superb job of designing them," Hellemeyer predicted.

Big adjustment for cost of living

Granite City Steel has added another hefty cost-of-living adjustment (COLA) to the pay of its 5,000 employees.

Based on the steep rise in living costs over the past three months, a COLA of 25 cents an hour is being added to base rates effective Aug. 1. This is equal to $43.25 per month for salaried employees. The most recent increase brought the total hourly COLA to 72 cents an hour—or $125 a month—during the past year. These amounts are being "rolled in" to base rates of pay effective yesterday.

The adjustment is based on the government's Consumer Price Index each three months.

No further adjustment will be made until Nov. 1.

PROBATION GIVEN

Sharon G. Nishke, 24, of 2164 Lee Ave., was freed on one year of probation by Associate Judge Edward C. Ferguson after she pleaded guilty to battery. The charge was reduced from aggravated battery. Jean Inman, 2666 Madison Ave., was stabbed in the left arm June 6 at her apartment and it was alleged Sharon Nishke stabbed her.

Youth faces $40,000 bond

Donald L. Waelitz, 17, of 1632 Third St., Madison, is being held in the Madison County jail pending posting $40,000 bond. He is charged with two counts of burglary. He was arrested by Madison police at his home at 7:29 p.m. Sunday and taken to court Tuesday.

Waelitz allegedly is implicated in two separate burglaries in the 1000 block of Fourth Street, Madison. According to Madison police, the high bond was set high because Waelitz allegedly entered two separate buildings, one on Wednesday, July 18, and the second on Saturday, July 28. A bicycle was taken in one burglary and a lawnmower, tools and numerous other small items were allegedly taken in the second burglary.

CYCLIST HURT

Alan Nunn, 22, of 2453 Center St., was injured in a motorcycle accident on Maryville Road, one-half mile north of Route 162 at 2:05 a.m. Tuesday and was taken by a Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center. He suffered multiple scrapes and abrasions to both arms and multiple cuts to his face and head and was admitted.

Road crash

Mills said his truck, loaded with sand, was going about 40 to 45 mph when the car pulled in front of it.

Mrs. Lockridge was pinned in the wreckage and rescue workers from the Granite City Fire Department required more than one-half hour to remove her from the wreckage. She was declared dead in the car at 1:25 p.m. Monday by Madison County Deputy Coroner Dick Mizell.

Mizell said the apparent cause of death was severe internal injuries and he believes she died instantly. An inquest is to be scheduled.

Mrs. Lockridge had resided in Granite City for 44 years. She was a native of Stewart County, Tenn. She had been employed by the Granite City School District in its food services department for 10 years.

At the current time, she was the cafeteria foreman at Niedringhaus Grade School.

Mrs. Lockridge was a member of Third Baptist Church. She was preceded in death by her father, Edward Coakley of Granite City, on Jan. 19, 1973, and by a brother, Robert Lee Coakley of Jerseyville, in 1974.

Surviving are her husband, Russell Lockridge, two sons, Vance Lockridge of Granite City and Vernon Lockridge, at home; her mother, Mrs. Mattie Coakley of Granite City; three sisters, Mrs. John (Christell) Durham of Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. Nelson (Nola) Ross of Millstadt and Mrs. Artie (Jewel) Tanner of Tennessee Ridge, Tenn.; one brother, Carl Coakley of Detroit, Mich.; and three grandchildren.

Funeral services are scheduled at 1 p.m. today. Details are given in the obituary column.

MAN IS ARRESTED

Dennis H. Peters, 29, of 2657 E. 27th St., was arrested during the weekend on disorderly conduct complaints signed by the parents of two girls, ages 7 and 9, who alleged Peters attempted to lure them into his car in the 2200 block of Cleveland Boulevard.

Auto frame production volume cut

By BILL WINTER

and GARY SCHNEIDER

The day shift at the A.O. Smith Corp. automotive frame plant on Missouri Avenue (formerly Route 3) will return to work Monday, Aug. 6, after a one-month closing during which production equipment was converted to produce frames for full-size 1980 automobiles.

A spokesman for the company said yesterday that the plant, shut down since July 6, will resume production on a limited basis Monday.

A reduction of orders from our customer has caused us to resume operations at a lower level, resulting in the indefinite layoff of approximately 425 employees," the spokesman said.

About 1,100 persons will return to work, mostly on the 7 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. shift. Both production lines will operate on the day shift, and there are no plans, at this time, to have evening production.

He said many employees have received notices of indefinite layoff. "That is exactly what it means. An indefinite layoff is not permanent," he stressed.

Due to a reduction in available gasoline supplies, sale of full-size cars has slackened and there is an unmet demand for smaller autos which do not utilize the types of frames produced here.

When the 1980 Chevrolet Citation and other new compact, front-wheel-drive General Motors autos were introduced several months ago, Smith and GM officials were hopeful that sales would be sufficient to offset the expected large volume of big-car sales, enabling the manufacturer to achieve an average fuel efficiency meeting stricter federal standards.

Previously hard-to-sell little cars now have two-to-four-month waiting lists of eager would-be buyers.

The turnaround, while solving automakers' need to increase average mileage, has reached such an extreme that the more profitable larger models are stockpiled, depressing dealer and manufacturer revenue and causing the mammoth Chrysler Corp. to seek government loans and tax waivers.

Ford and GM are affected to a lesser degree, the latter this week eliminating second shifts at its assembly plants.

With standby gasoline rationing about to be enacted, there may be further impetus for prospective car buyers to "think small."

But fuel supplies are said to be improving slightly, giving hope of a revival of interest in medium and full-size cars. In the meantime, there will be a lower than normal level of operations at the Smith frame plant and at many other assembly and parts facilities across the nation.

TWO YOUTHS HELD

Two boys, ages 16 and 14, both of Madison, are being held by Madison police as petitioners with the court have been filed against them in regard to the theft of at least 20 speakers, valued at $15.50 each, from the Madison middle school. Police have recovered 19 speakers. The burglary was discovered Monday and the youths taken into custody Tuesday.

River Fest concert on TV Aug. 11

On Friday, July 20, the singer, song writer, husband, wife team of Nick Ashford and Valerie Simpson played to a large crowd at the Mississippi River Festival. Included in the crowd were PBS cameras, on hand to tape the concert for national telecast on PBS stations Saturday, July 21.

At the request of Ashford and Simpson's management, KETC, Channel 9, agreed to delay the broadcast until 10 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 11.

As songwriters, they are well-known for a score of Motown hits, including "Ain't No Mountain High Enough" and "Ain't Nothing Like the Real Thing."

A tenor, Ashford invokes a preacher's techniques to stir up his audience. Valerie Simpson's strong-voiced soprano adds the harmony that makes the duo two of the most popular performers on the concert stage.

Together, said a reviewer, "They moved and sang with the precision of a team whose every gesture is so practiced that it seems natural. Their band and backup singers were much the same."

Four tickets follow chase

Donald E. Hodge, 19, Fort Riley, Kan., was charged with attempting to elude police, reckless driving and violating two stop signs after a police car chased his car several blocks at 2:10 a.m. Tuesday, official police reports allege.

An officer alleged he saw the driver stop the car, but it sped up instead, according to the officer. He turned the squad car around and alleged chasing the auto left onto Bromley Avenue, right onto Lincoln Avenue, right onto Hall Street and left onto East 23rd Street again.

The driver stopped voluntarily on East 23rd Street and was arrested, officers said. They alleged during the chase, the car ran two stop signs and went out of control twice, but the driver managed to regain control.

JONI MITCHELL

Joni Mitchell to appear here

Joni Mitchell will perform at the Mississippi River Festival on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville on Thursday, Aug. 9, at 7:30 p.m.

She began her career singing and composing folk music, but has since been in constant pursuit of newer, more sophisticated modes of expression.

"Pigeonholes all seem funny to me. I feel like one of those life-educational types that just keeps going for letters after their name."

"I want the full hyphenate: folk-rock-country-jazz-classics," she says. "So finally, when you get all the hyphens in, maybe they'll drop them all, and get down to just some American music."

The fact that her music never fit comfortably within a single category is considered a corollary to her originality as an artist. She has more formal schooling as a painter than a musician, and she views her music in a pictorial, or as she puts it, a "painterly," fashion.

Her inability to read or write music in a formal, traditional sense is said to contribute to the freshness of her sound, to the "intimately personal quality of the expression."

Event to aid soccer squad

A special fundraiser for Belleville Area College's soccer team is scheduled for Aug. 18 at the Belleville Racquetball Club, 1901 S. 74th St.

An afternoon soccer tourney will precede the event when BAC plays Harris-Stowe College at the Our Lady of Loretta Parish, St. Louis.

Beginning at 6 p.m. at the Belleville Racquetball Club, barbecue pits will be available for soccer fans to cook their own food. Live music will accompany the festivities.

A $5 ticket will give fans access to the volleyball courts, racquetball courts, sauna and whirlpool at the club until 1 a.m.

BAC nurse coordinator

Betty Thompson has been named coordinator for the Belleville Area College nursing program. She will begin her employment with the college on Aug. 9.

Also appointed at a special meeting of the Board of Trustees last week was Lisa A. Christ as secretary for Trade, Industrial and Agricultural Technology.

Penelope H. Neale resigned as full-time director of the St. Clair County Multi-Purpose Center and was retained on a part-time basis.

Lease agreements with Belleville Township High School District 201, the St. Clair County Housing Authority, and Bridge and Structure Ironworkers Local 392 for classroom space were approved.

REHEARSING THEIR LINES. Rebecca Vartan of Granite City and David Houghton of Webster Groves rehearse their roles for the upcoming student production of "The Mousetrap," to be performed at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Aug. 8, 9, 10 and 11. Scheduled for the Communications Building theater, the curtain will rise each evening at 8:15.

MARRIED. Miss Linda K. Wiesehan and Frank J. Barunica Jr. were united in marriage May 25 at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wiesehan of Granite City.

Miss Wiesehan weds Frank Barunica Jr.

St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church was the setting for the wedding on May 25 of Miss Linda K. Wiesehan and Frank J. Barunica Jr.

The church was decorated with an urn of spring flowers and a candelabra with pink candles and green foliage.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Wiesehan, 2813 Fortune Drive. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barunica Sr., 1928 Grand Ave.

Father Edward Groesch officiated at the double ring evening ceremony.

Mrs. June Branding sang "Sunrise, Sunset," "Ave Maria," "Wedding Song," "Sometimes" and "Evergreen."

The bride selected a floor length gown of white organza over taffeta. Re-embroidered lace outlined the round transparent yoke of English netting, with embroidery and seed pearls accenting the bodice.

Matching lace with Venice appliques was repeated on the sheer bishop sleeves and on the semi-full skirt, which was hemmed with a ruffle flounce of French Chantilly lace. The dress featured a chapel train.

She wore a double fingertip veil of bridal illusion edged with lace and secured with a lace and pearl covered Juliet cap.

Her bouquet was a cascade arrangement of silk roses, ranunculus, baby breath, greenery and lace streamers.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Cheryl Morgan, cousin of the bride. Bridesmaids were Dawn Gasparovic, Lynda Barunica, the groom's sister, and Mrs. Cindy Wilson and Susan Kaleta.

They wore floor length gowns of floral organza over ivory taffeta featuring ruffled bodices. Empire waists and pleated A-line skirts hemmed with a ruffled flounce.

They carried colonial bouquets of ivory callions, pink roses and multi-colored satin streamers. Each wore baby breath in their hair.

Heather Nobus, a niece of the groom, was flower girl. She carried a basket of flowers matching those of the bridesmaids.

A cousin of the bride, David Wiesehan, served as ring bearer.

The groom chose his brother, Scott Barunica, as best man. Groomsmen were Alan Benko, Mark Seago, David Wilson and John Bruch. Ushers were Ken and Mark Wiesehan, brothers of the bride, Ron Wiggins and John Brooks.

A rehearsal dinner was held at Medich's in St. Louis and the reception was held at Crofton Home, Madison.

The bride is a 1976 graduate of Granite City High School South and a 1979 graduate of Belleville Area College, where she received a medical assistant's degree. She is employed at a local doctor's office.

The groom is also a 1976 graduate of South, and is employed as a welder at A.O. Smith Corp.

After a wedding trip to Florida, the couple is residing in Granite City.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN LESAR JR. They were married June 2 at New Hope Baptist Church. The bride is the former Miss Darletha S. Angle, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Angle Sr. of Granite City.

New Hope scene of Lesar-Angle vows

Miss Darletha S. Angle became the bride of John A. Lesar Jr. in a candlelight ceremony June 2 at New Hope Baptist Church.

The Rev. Chester Wisely officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Madison budget includes funds for railroad spur

By MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record
The 1979-80 appropriations ordinance for the City of Madison in the amount of $1,899,844 was passed at a special council meeting Monday.
This is an increase of $76,244 over the 1978-79 budget of $1,823,600.

The new budget does not include $400,000 for the shopping center that was included in last year's budget.
Madison Comptroller Albert Hudzik maintained that since the $400,000 was in last years budget it would be "just carried over, since it was already appropriated," and did not need to be in the '79-'80 budget.

The budget allows a seven percent salary increase for all 25 Madison full time city employees.

The refuse department budget was increased by $64,565, from $72,452 to $137,017. This increase was due to a rise of $24,000 in landfill charges and $25,000 for a lease purchase plan for new trash containers.

provided monies are available, Hudzik said.
The Economic Development Administration Project (EDA) has been increased $261,300, from $18,700 to $280,000.
This increase is for a rail spur in the Maeris

Industrial Park. Funds for this project will come from federal grants and private sources.

Varied financial aid to students

Students attending SIUE this fall will still find financial assistance available to them, according to Thelma Thompson, financial aid adviser in the Office of Student Work and Financial Assistance (SWFA). However, the deadline for receiving need-based financial aid was May 1.

Many students do not apply for financial aid because they believe their income level is too high, their grades are too low, or they do not know what is available; the only sure way to know about eligibility is to apply, she points out.

Information and advice on how to obtain aid in the form of a scholarship, loan, grant or part-time employment is available from the SWFA Office.

Not all financial aid is need-based, and some scholarships, loan and employment opportunities are available to interested students at any time.

Students seeking need-based financial aid are required to file the American College Testing Agency (ACT) Form at least four weeks prior to quarterly deadlines. SWFA defines "need" as the difference between the total cost of attending SIUE and a student's expected family contribution.

The ACT-FPS is the required document used to obtain a fair assessment of family contribution. Students seeking need-based financial aid must re-apply for it each year. There is a $4.50 application processing fee for forwarding information to a school.

Application deadlines for receiving need-based aid for the 1980 academic year are: winter quarter, Oct. 1; spring quarter, Jan. 1; and summer quarter, April 1.

There are two basic categories of financial aid—state and federal. The state assistance includes the Illinois State Scholarship Commission (ISC), Monetary Award Program, the Illinois Guaranteed Loan, and regular student employment.

Federal assistance programs include the Basic Educational Opportunity Grant (BEOG), the National Direct Student Loan (ND-SL), Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (EOG), and College Work-Study. Miss Thompson said. The SEOG, NDSL and College Work-Study programs are campus based. Deadlines for application are quarterly.

The BEOG must be applied for by all SIUE undergraduate students seeking financial assistance other than institutional employment. The deadline for applying for the 1979-80 BEOG award period is March 15, 1980.

With the ISSC Monetary Award and the Illinois Guaranteed Loan, eligible students carrying 12 or more quarter hours are entitled to full-time benefits. Eligible students carrying between eight and 11 quarter hours receive half-time benefits.

Deadline for applying for the 1979-80 ISSC Monetary Award is Oct. 1, 1979.

Applications for the Illinois Guaranteed Loan are made through local lending institutions. SWFA carries a listing of participating banks and associations in the state.

Information concerning private scholarships with donor-specified qualifications, SIUE Foundation grants, scholarships and loans, veterans and Social Security benefits, and graduate assistantships is also available from the SWFA Office.

Students desiring on-campus employment should apply one week before or any time during quarters of attendance. Students may apply at the SWFA office for campus employment at any time.

"Forty-nine types of aid are available at SIUE. Applications may be secured from the SWFA office, Room 2308 of the John S. Rendleman Building."

Interviews with SWFA advisors can be made on a daily basis to determine eligibility for the loan.

All kinds of jobs, from secretarial to janitorial work, are available on campus, as well as off-campus. Information on job opportunities is available at the SWFA office (692-3800).

Board studies bids on sale of 2 schools

The Madison School Board met in closed session Monday evening in a discussion of last week's auction of Dunbar and the junior high school buildings.

No action will be taken until the regular meeting today at 7:30 p.m.

A discussion on personnel was held and the board hired Miss Patricia Hall as a speech therapist; Ronald Crader as an English teacher at Madison High School; and Barbara Cox as lab manager and media specialist at the new middle school.

Negotiations with the teachers union in Madison will resume next week, according to Madison Superintendent of Schools John Falchett.

There have been no meetings recently, according to Falchett, as everyone has been waiting to see how much state aid will be available.

Falchett said he feels everything will be worked out in the negotiations prior to school opening.

William Burch, 23, of 2029 Delmar Ave., suffered scratches to his forehead and right knee when his car and the auto of Melvin Pashea, 2200 E. 24th St., collided at Nameoki and Johnson roads Monday. Burch was treated and released from St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

As Midwest takes the Gold

DeRousse is named to National Youth Team

RANDY DEROUSSE

COLORADO SPRINGS — Granite Cityan Randy DeRousse was named here Tuesday night to the National Junior Cup team, after he helped lead the Midwest Select squad to the gold medal in the second annual National Sports Festival at the U.S. Olympic Training Site.

DeRousse, who turned 17 today (Aug. 2), is one of the youngest players named to the Under-18 group. He was one of four Granite Cityans who made the trip to Colorado Springs two weeks ago to begin preparing for the Sports Festival, which includes most of the Olympic-type sports. Also taking part were Jack Burnett, Tony Pierce and David Fernandez. Burnett saw nearly as much playing time as did DeRousse during the round-robin tournament. Pierce was one of several goalies on the Midwest squad. He started and played the entire game Monday night in the Midwest's only defeat, a 2-1 setback at the hands of the West squad. Fernandez suffered a minor knee injury and was out of the competition.

The Midwest won the gold medal Tuesday night by defeating the South team 1-0 to finish the tournament with a 3-1 record.

While Fernandez, Pierce and Burnett returned to Granite City Wednesday, DeRousse remained in Colorado Springs to train with the National Team, which will play the French National "B" Team Saturday (Aug. 4) at Pierce College in Los Angeles prior to an American Soccer League game between the Los Angeles Skyhawks and the Sacramento Gold. There are tentative plans for a return match in Paris sometime in October, but plans have not been finalized.

players were named to the National Team. They are Art Kramer (voted the number one midfielder in the tournament), Dan King, Groak and Orlick.

DeRousse and the rest of the National Team members moved Tuesday from their Sports Festival quarters at the Air Force Academy near Colorado Springs to the Olympic Training Site Headquarters, where they will live and work out prior to their first game as a team Saturday. Tentative plans are for DeRousse to arrive back in Granite City sometime Sunday. However, those plans could be altered, depending on the plans of the national coaches. A reception for all four Granite Cityans who were on the Midwest squad is planned. DeRousse is the son of Mr.

and Mrs. Erv DeRousse of Granite City. His older brother, Danny, is a 1977 graduate of GCIS South and has announced that he will play soccer at Belleville Area College in the fall (see related story). Randy will be a senior at South this fall.

South comes back to down North All-Stars

By KEVIN ALLEN of the Press-Record
HIGHLAND — Small mistakes loomed large when added one upon another here in Tuesday night's all-star game, as the American Legion's South division of District 22 beat the North division, 4-1.

Despite the select group of players on the field, the play was not all that spectacular. North's fielding looked confused. Physical as well as mental mistakes allowed South to overcome an early lead, then go on to hold on.

Kirk Champion, coach of Tri-City and one of the North coaches, suggested the mistakes weren't all that untypical of all-stars. "The problems we had — like people confused about who was covering a base — that's what happens in all-star games," Champion said. "That's how you win all-star games, you make the other team make mistakes."

At least that's how the South all-stars won, South scored its four runs in only three of the nine innings, and twice North mistakes were, to varying degrees, responsible.

The most obvious example of the confusion came in the fifth. That's when South came up with two runs on one hit.

Down 1-0 at that point, South's Steve Hausman from Belleville began the inning by reaching base on shortstop Mark Schacke's (Edwardsville) error.

Hausman went to second then third when North pitcher Chip Brakeville, from Alton, fielded Belleville's Matt Zipfel's tap back to the mound, turned and threw the ball into center field.

Coverage was the problem. The second baseman and shortstop were confused about who was taking the throw.

Brakeville needed a double play ball from the next batter, Tim von der Linder of Freeburg. He got what he wanted. The ball was hit once again back to the mound, and once again Brakeville threw the ball into center. Again the middle infielders were confused.

Both Zipfel and Hausman scored on the play, but von der Linder was cut down at third on a throw from Granite City's Bob Stegemeyer, the center fielder.

The sloppy inning put South ahead 2-1. Through the first four innings North had held a 1-0 lead, produced by a first-inning run.

It was, in fact the first batter of the game for North who scored the run.

That batter was Rick Dietz of Bethalto who led off with a walk. Phil Conrux of Edwardsville followed with another walk.

Dietz moved over to third on a stolen base and a passed ball. After a strike-out by Granite City's Jeff Parker, Edwardsville's Dan Allaria forced Conrux at second.

Champion is named Manager of the Year

By KEVIN ALLEN of the Press-Record
HIGHLAND — Kirk Champion is 21 years old. Last week Tri-City, the American Legion team he coached this year, lost to Alton by one run for the District 22 North Division championship. Last Monday night he was named Manager of the Year by a vote of his fellow coaches.

"It's a nice individual honor," Champion said. "But I'd much rather be going to Harrisburg next week."

Harrisburg is where the winner of the District 22 crown will be playing in the Fifth Division Tournament.

Champion's accomplishments — leading Tri-City to a regular-season championship tie, then to the finals of the tournament — earned him the respect of opposing coaches, who selected him manager of the year.

"You never expect something like this," Champion said. "You never get much of a reflection of how the other coaches feel about you during the season."

Champion isn't so sure. "I don't know, maybe that caught people's attention. Maybe the fact

JEFF PARKER of Tri-City Post 113 looks over a pitch Tuesday night during the American Legion District 22 All-Star game in Highland.

Parker started at third base for the North Division and played most of the game. The South All-Stars came from behind to beat the North 4-1. (Press-Record)

By KEVIN ALLEN of the Press-Record
HIGHLAND — Toward the end of the American Legion all-star game Tuesday, between the North and South divisions of District 22, the level of enthusiasm evident from the North division was obviously limited.

South pitching had stopped North hitters almost to a man. Only twice did North reach first safely.

In the field, North had permitted South runners to take uncommon liberties, in the fifth practically giving the South division the first two of its four runs.

But it wasn't only the play that was somewhat dismal. The weather in Highland, Tuesday, came in two varieties — drizzle and shower.

Perhaps the bad conditions had some affect on the length of the game. But it was probably the additional two innings played accounted for the extra-long contest.

For some reason, instead of the normal seven innings usual in Legion games, this all-star game was scheduled for nine.

At any rate, the players tended toward boredom.

Tri-City coach Kirk Champion, who was one of the coaches for the North division, had other explanations.

"It's not that the (players) didn't care, it's just that the style of an all-star game is a lot different than a regular game."

"There are a lot of little things that make a difference," Champion said it was those little things that made the difference Tuesday.

He can't come home —not yet anyway

By PETE HAYES

Sports Editor

COLORADO SPRINGS — Randy DeRousse is ready to come home, but he can't yet. Even though today (Aug. 2) is his 17th birthday, he won't be able to spend it with his family in Granite City. He doesn't mind.

DeRousse, who will be a senior at GCHS South this fall, was one of 18 players from across the country picked for the National Youth Soccer Team by the staff of national coaches at the second annual National Sports Festival here. He's still trying to come down from his cloud.

As DeRousse spoke last night from his dormitory hallway in Colorado Springs by telephone, he sounded like a kid who had perhaps just gotten a glimpse at a childhood hero. Or gotten a famous person's autograph — he was on the proverbial Cloud Nine. But it was he who could have been the hero.

"Sure I was surprised," he said. "There were something like 72 players out here and they only pick 18 for the team." The 72 were then from all corners of the United States competing for the gold medal in soccer — and a spot on the Youth Team. Four from Granite City made the trip. Three of them are back.

DeRousse will have to stay out West for another three days, however. His first game with the National Youth Team is Sunday in Los Angeles against the French Olympic "B" team. Actually, DeRousse is a member of the United States

The Sporting Thing

Olympic "B" Team, but it isn't called that.

He has had a lot of spare time on his hands, he said, even though the workouts are hard and the discipline strict. "I've done some sight-seeing and watched a lot of the other sports at the Sports Festival," said DeRousse. "But I've been able to do a few other things too."

When he said the last sentence, I could almost sense a grin coming across the miles through the telephone lines. But DeRousse would not elaborate upon further questioning.

It may sound like an old cliché, but DeRousse said he made "lots of new friends" during his stay at the Sports Festival. Among them was a fellow team member from Chicago, Manuel Gordie. "Besides the guys from Granite City, I guess he was my closest friend out here."

Those "other guys" from Granite City were Jack Burnett, David Fernandez and Tony Pierce. DeRousse said he was surprised Burnett was not picked for the National Team. "He played very well, but it's hard to say what things these coaches are looking for."

The Midwest squad won the gold medal, by the way (see story, page 23). DeRousse said that was his greatest thrill during his stay there, not being selected. "It was something we had worked for as a team for about two weeks," he said.

DeRousse's teammate Fernandez, one of the most widely-heralded prep soccer players in Illinois, was knocked out of the competition early last week. "It was raining, so we went inside to play on the artificial surface inside at the Air Force Academy," DeRousse explained. "We were scrimmaging and Tony (Pierce) was playing in goal. Well, he came out to grab a loose ball and he and Dave sort of ran into each other. The turf didn't budge an inch."

The result was a strained knee, which was enough to knock Fernandez out of the competition. It is not expected to keep him from workouts for South, which begin Aug. 15 (he will be a junior).

DeRousse is leaving for Los Angeles Friday morning and is expected to arrive back in St. Louis Sunday. Other trips planned for the National Youth Team are to Morocco in November, Switzerland in the spring and Yugoslavia next July. In preparation for the 1981 Junior World Cup Games. That ought to give DeRousse a chance to get over his home-sickness.

EDWARDSVILLE — Four area high school young women, all recent graduates have signed letters of intent to enroll at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, according to Cindy Jones, the Cougars' head field hockey coach.

The quartet are: Laura McKee, Granite City North; Cindy Bokern, Nerinx Hall,

Webster Groves, Linda Smith, Roosevelt High, St. Louis; and Terri Lamb, Mascoutah (Illinois) High. McKee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. McKee, Granite City, played four years for the Granite City North Steelers, primarily at halfback but also filled in at times at a forward slot. Says Coach Jones: "Laura has good mobility and speed and will probably be playing in the halfback line here at SIUE. She has also run varsity track and is a very fine soccer player."

Bokern, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Bokern, held down the left wing position for Nerinx Hall for four years and has had two years of participation in the Sauk Valley Field Hockey Camp. Smith, who played on the forward line for four years at Granite City North, was a shortstop for the North All-Stars and later moved to second base. He plays high school baseball for Granite City North. The South squad came from behind to defeat the North 4-1.

Perkins keeps his cool

By PETE HAYES

Sports Editor

IOWA CITY, Iowa — Sam Perkins' talents got him there. But his pride didn't hurt once he made it. He is now a national champion in the sport that made Granite City famous — wrestling.

Perkins, a 1979 graduate of Granite City High School South, won the 142-pound championship last week in the National Greco-Roman Tournament at Iowa State University. And he attributes that feat to one thing — pride.

"You have to have pride and the ability to keep your cool," said Perkins. "I would tell myself, 'I'm not gonna get beat,' before every match. It got my confidence up."

Perkins won the title by pinning three opponents, defeating four by decision and one by disqualification in a period of less than 48 hours.

The lanky 17-year old said he couldn't believe he had won the national championship as he stepped off the mat after beating Jim Laird of Chicago 9-8 in the final match. "I still can't believe it," he said. "I went up there with the idea of just doing the best I could one bout at a time. Winning the national championship was sort of remote in my mind."

Perkins isn't the only wrestler in his family. His younger brother Dean (who will be a junior at South next fall) also went to the National Tournament as the Illinois state freestyle champion at the 156-pound level. Sam was invited to participate on the basis of a strong showing on recent Illinois All-Star trip through New York and New Jersey. Did Dean or Sam get to see many of the other's matches in Iowa? "I saw as many of his as I could and he got to see some of mine," said Sam. "He was pulling for me."

Dean competed in both Freestyle and Greco, while Sam took part in Greco only. Dean did not place in the freestyle event, but placed eighth in his weight in Greco-Roman.

"Dean was disappointed that he didn't do better," said Margaret Perkins, the boys' mother. "But he's very proud of his brother."

The caliber of competition at the National Tournament made an impression on the boys' father, Tammie Perkins. "It gets tougher and tougher every year," he said. "There are people who were in the top five last year who didn't even place this year."

Sam became interested in wrestling when he was an eighth-grader at Prather Junior High. Since that time, he has received expert high school coaching from Bill "Red" Schmitt at South. "Smitty's helped me a lot in collegiate-style wrestling," said Perkins. "He knows just about everything there is to know about wrestling. I think Sam was the state high school runner-up in 1978 at 145 pounds."

Sam has announced his intentions to attend Illinois State University in the fall on an athletic scholarship. But he said he felt no added pressure to do well at the National Tournament to make a good impression on his future coaches at ISU. "I just felt all I had to do was my best. And not get psyched-out." What Perkins meant by "psyched-out" was not letting himself "loose his cool."

"If you start getting nervous and thinking about outside things, that when you're going to get stuck (pinned)," he said. "And believe me, there were a lot of guys there who could do it."

How did Perkins react after he won the championship? "I just sort of walked off the mat," he said. "Just as he has done in what seems like hundreds of meets for GCHS South teams. These father noticed something a little different."

Summer league is winding down

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City Summer Soccer League (Just For Kicks) is winding down its 1979 season. The season will end Monday, Aug. 6 with a game between Winfield Construction's team and a squad representing Belleville Area College at the Army Depot Field near here.

The league was an eleventh-hour brainchild of Granite City's "father of soccer," Ruben Mendoza. Mendoza's idea was to form a league for player who had passed the age they are allowed to compete in youth leagues. Most are former high school players from Granite City, Collinsville and Belleville. Some are current college players.

Even though the league is operated more or less for fun, the games are hot and heavy.

An added highlight just announced by Mendoza will be a sort of "all-star" game for the teams. It will be played this Sunday (Aug. 5) at the Depot Field beginning at 1 p.m. It will feature the team which finished with the best record among the four squads, the Granite City Football Club, against some of the best players from the other three teams. These other three are Winfield, Collinsville and B.A.C.

Most of the players on the Granite City Football Club are former Granite City High School South players. Those on the Winfield team are former GCHS North players.

The GC Football Club is coached by Harry Breckner, Winfield by Charlie Bennington, Collinsville by Rick Locandro and B.A.C. by Mike Moore.

Going into last night's games, GC Football Club had a 6-0 record, Winfield 3-4, Collinsville 3-4-1 and B.A.C. 0-5-1.

Summer home for martin. . . . . . . .scene of a yearly reunion

CHECKING ON THE YOUNGSTERS. Charles Cable takes good care of his martin houses. The one above can be lowered so that the interior may be inspected. Cable checks the martin houses once a week to make sure all is going well, helping to make the perky little mosquito eaters happy in their summer home.

Photos and story by Cathey Jamison

GRAND ACCOMMODATIONS for the purple martins are provided by the Cables. The high rise "apartment" complex above is home for the summer to over 100 birds. The Cables love to sit out in their back yard and watch the friendly antics of the martins. The birds' diet of mosquitoes and other flying insects makes the sitting nicer, since the insect population is so low around the Cable house. A telephone line, (right) provides a perfect early morning perch for the birds, since they are not too fond of trees. The Cables seem to have come up with a pretty good summer resort, and the martins have come back every year for the last 10 years or so.

If you arise early in the morning, you will see them as they come out of their houses and perch on the railings. The yard is filled with the music of the purple martins who live at 19 Devonhill Lane.

The martins are the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Charles (Louise) Cable, who also live at 19 Devonhill Lane. The Cables and the purple martins have been friends for nearly 12 years.

The purple martin is very popular. A member of the swallow family, the purple martin is a beautiful bird. Sleek of body, graceful in flight and cheerful of song, he is a joy to watch.

The purple martin's natural food is flying insects. They have an insatiable appetite and must consume tremendous numbers of insects each day in order to survive.

Mosquitoes and flies are among those insects on which the martin thrives. It is for this reason that people began to try to attract the purple martin to their yards.

When Charles and Louise Cable first became interested in attracting the martins, they went to the purple martin capital of the world in order to learn how to do it right. That capital is located up the Mississippi from us, in Griggsville, Ill., not far from Hannibal, Mo.

In Griggsville the purple martin has become that town's way of handling the insect problem. Martin houses have been set up all over town. These seem to have a genuine affection for humans and will colonize more quickly a populated area.

The Cables bought their first aluminum house in Griggsville. The only industry in that small town at that time was the factory that builds houses designed with purple martins in mind.

The aluminum house is preferred by the martins. Wood houses will attract sparrows, while the aluminum houses are not as attractive to them. The sparrow is frightened when he sees himself in the shiny interior, but the purple martin seems to like to look at himself.

The Cables put that first house up on a pole near a tree. They learned later that the martin does not like trees, so the Cables cut the large tree in their back yard to accommodate the martins.

Later, two more houses were added, providing homes for many purple martin families. This year, according to Cable, 80 new birds were hatched and raised in those three houses.

The purple martin lives in South America during the winter, coming north every year to nest. Those who live around the Cable home arrive between March 19 and 21 every year. They stay throughout the summer, leaving around August 10th through the 15th.

During their time at the Cable house, the martins raise their young and keep the insect population around the house and neighborhood way down.

They also provide a lot of enjoyment for the Cables, who love to sit on their patio and watch the martins at work and at play.

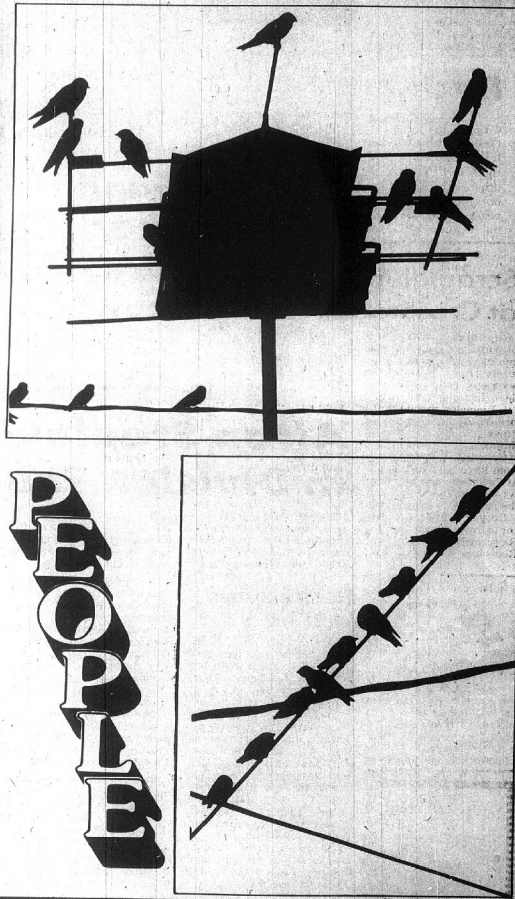

The martins come out of their houses early in the morning and perch nearby. The older birds stay out of the trees, preferring the rods attached to the houses and the nearby phone and power lines.

Later on, as the time for their departure grows nearer, the martins take flight, coming back later and later as they prepare the young birds for the long flight of migration. Near the beginning of August, they may be gone for long periods of time until one day they fly off and do not return.

The Cables do more than just watch their friends. Cable checks the houses once a week or so throughout the

AND BABIES MAKE FOUR. The young purple martins above are almost ready to fly. They are the last of the 80 new birds hatched in the Cable houses. Some of their relatives, right, perch on the houses in the early morning light.

State okays Madison plans for 1979-80

The State Board of Education on Thursday approved desegregation plans for Waukegan District 60, Proviso District 209 and Madison District 12 under Section 6.1 of the Rules Establishing Requirements and Procedures for the Elimination of Racial Segregation in Schools.

The desegregation plan for Waukegan District was approved until July 1980 and for Proviso until January 1980.

The board extended approval of the Madison district's desegregation plan until September 1980.

It also:

- Approved regulations for the administration of State Title I Compensatory Funds for both downstate school districts and Chicago.
- Announced that Governor James Thompson's signing of General Revenue-Common School Fund appropriations totaled $2.038 billion. This amount is about $37.5 million above Thompson's March budget recommendation and $53 million below the amount requested by the board.

—Approved the State Teacher Certification Board appointments recommended by State Superintendent of Education Joseph M. Cronin. The appointments to the Certification Board are:

- Marty W. Babel, elementary teacher in St. Charles.
- Reg Weaver, elementary teacher in Harvey.
- Dr. Samuel Betances, professor of sociology at Northeastern Illinois University, Chicago.
- Thomas Oates, superintendent of Panhandle District 2, Raymond.

Terms for the four appointments will expire June 30, 1982.

—Restored the remaining 50 percent vocational education funds to the Chicago Board for the Washburne Trade School Apprenticeship Program. The Illinois State Board of Education on Thursday also voted to clarify its policymaking role by adopting the board's name for the Illinois Office of Education.

The action will not take effect until Oct. 1. After that date, references to the board will be understood to include its administrative agency, now known as the Illinois Office of Education.

Board members cited numerous inquiries from legislators, educators and local citizens concerning who makes policy for elementary and secondary education.

Since the board is created by the Illinois Constitution, Vice-Chairman Carol Johnston said, the name change should eliminate confusion in the future as to who sets policy.

Also, the name change will present a unified relationship between the board and its administrative agency, she added.

The board also, in response to a legislative mandate in House Bill 2402, approved the creation of a study commission to make recommendations to the board on the structure of services provided by educational service regions.

The board's commission will consist of prominent citizens representing all parts of the state. Individuals for the commission will be announced early in August.

House Bill 2420 directs the board to examine services provided by educational service regions and to develop and report legislative recommendations to the General Assembly not later than Feb. 1, 1980.

Five-year prison term

Drew A. Callender, 20, of the 2800 block of West 22nd Street has been sentenced by Circuit Judge Harold R. Clark to serve five years in prison after pleading guilty to delivery of a controlled substance to an undercover agent of the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois (MEGSI) on Nov. 9, 1978.

Judge Clark dismissed an attempted escape charge on the motion of the Madison County state's attorney's office.

Callender was among eight persons arrested April 9 in a coordinated series of arrests involving MEGSI agents and local police agencies. The arrests culminated a four-month undercover investigation in which agents purchased marijuana, cocaine, PCP (angel dust) and other drugs, primarily in Granite City, according to MEGSI Executive Director Richard Woods.

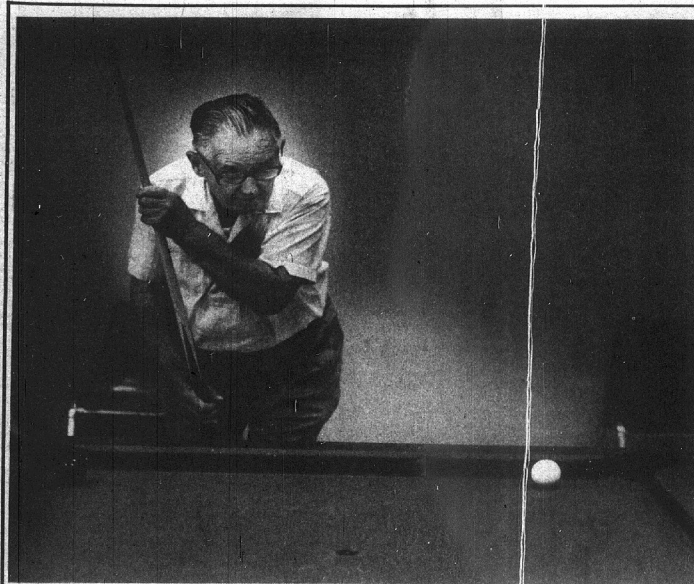

The attempted escape charge which was dismissed stemmed from an incident in June when jailers at the Madison County Jail alleged they heard a scream from Callender's cell and when they unlocked the door, two other inmates who had been hiding behind a wall leaped out and struggled with officers.

One allegedly used a crude knife to hold a deputy at bay. The escape lasted only about two minutes and the three prisoners were recaptured and returned to their cells, it was reported.

'UNLESS YOU BECOME' MUSICAL AT SHRINE

The composition, "Unless You Become," will be presented free at the Shrine outdoor amphitheater, Aug. 15, 16, 19, 22, 23 and 24, beginning at 8 p.m.

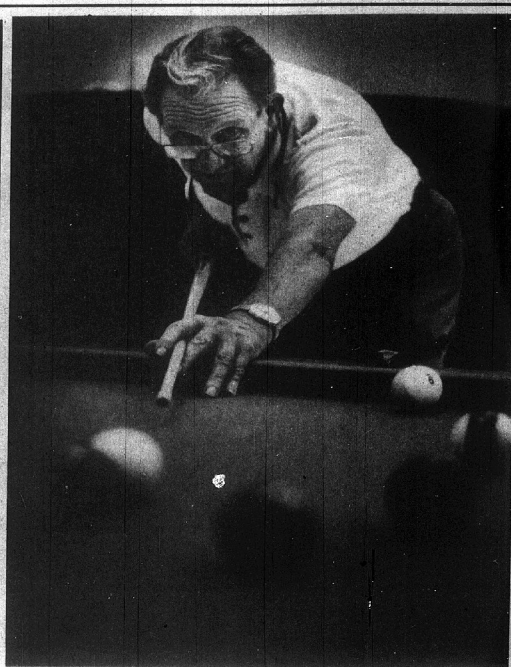

Dr. Pelouquin is director of music at the Cathedral of Saints Peter and Paul in Providence, R.I., and composer, conductor and founder of the Pelouquin Choral. His composition is mostly "happy sounds," with singing, dancing and music accompanied by recorders, xylophones and drums.

Rack-em!

Concentration and precise alignment of shots are of the utmost importance in the popular game. Lueker won the game banking the eight-ball in the side. The tournament already had been won by his team during an earlier game. Final team score was 8-4 in favor of the Edwardsville seniors, but all agreed that they enjoyed the competition and are ready for next year's tournament.

Scrap aluminum center at Crossroads Plaza

Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Company now pays 23 cents a pound to the public for all-aluminum beverage cans and other clean household aluminum. A Reynolds mobile unit is located at the Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center, Nantuxi and Pontoon Road in Granite City every Friday from 12:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. At the mobile unit aluminum is collected and weighed and the recycler is paid in cash. Recyclers may also bring their aluminum to the Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Company plant, Besides all-aluminum beverage cans and other clean household aluminum products such as pie plates, foil, frozen food and dinner trays and dip, pudding and meat containers, Reynolds recycles certain other aluminum items — including siding, gutters, storm door and window frames, lawn furniture tubing and aluminum castings — which are also worth 23 cents per pound if properly prepared. This aluminum must be free of all foreign materials, cut to lengths not exceeding three feet and should not be mixed with aluminum cans.

To determine the nearest mobile unit stop Quad-Cityans may call (toll-free) 800-228-2525.

Workshop on extra buses to the Arch

Congress has authorized National Transportation Authority funds in an effort to help national parks become more accessible to urban and suburban dwellers. The Jefferson National Expansion Memorial, a unit of the national park system on the St. Louis riverfront, will use Transportation Authority funds to enable Bi-State buses to run at new times and routes to help less mobile people get to the Gateway Arch.

The bus service is intended to bring groups or individuals to the memorial who cannot make the trip now because they are without personal means of travel or because public transportation does not adequately serve their area. Senior citizens, handicapped persons and other individuals who wish to visit the memorial to see the Arch and its new museum, or to visit the Old Courthouse, need inexpensive transportation, a spokesman said. The expanded bus service is designed to meet these needs. "The general public is invited to help decide the routes and times of the bus service to the Arch," Memorial Superintendent Jerry L. Schober notes. "We are seeking to make the Arch and the Old Courthouse more accessible."

The public workshops on bus service to the memorial are scheduled for next week: Tuesday, Aug. 7, from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m., on the second floor of the University Center, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Wednesday, Aug. 8, 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., the Explorer Room beneath the Arch, St. Louis.

Thursday, Aug. 9, 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., auditorium, St. Louis County Library, 1640 S. Lindbergh Boulevard.

"Ideas or suggestions received in advance of these workshops, as well as those presented during the meetings, will be considered to help begin the service in the most reasonable and useful manner," Schober said.

"The current thinking is that riders will pay a discount bus fare, 10 cents. Funds are available through December 1979. The authority is limited to a three-year period, and is to be funded on a year-by-year basis."

"A toll free telephone line will be installed. This will connect with the memorial's Museum Education Office, which then will call Bi-State Transit and have a bus sent at the time requested."

"Public participation in the workshops is necessary to the success of these efforts."

Corny quilt judged best

Mrs. Bonnie Belshie of Normal was awarded first place in the Illinois Quilt Block Contest sponsored by the Quilt Archive located at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Her winning block, entitled "Illinois Corn," was a 12-inch block consisting of four main colors simulating golden, ripe kernels of corn. The block is an intricate working of 144 squares, 1 inch to 1/2 inch in size. Placed diagonally, the kernels of corn are centered in the block and form an original pattern.

More than 150 quilt blocks depicting Illinois themes were submitted in the contest.

Judges—elected from all over the state—were representing various facets of the quilting, textile, and art worlds—remarked on the reactivity, originality, and craftsmanship of the entrants.

The top award was $100 and a certificate in honor of the event. Ten others were designated honorable mentions.

Currently, the winning blocks are being made into the "Illinois Quilt" which will tour the state in the months ahead.

Persons interested in obtaining a copy of the winning quilt pattern may send a stamped self-addressed envelope along with $5 cents to: Dr. John L. Oldani, SIUE, Box 43, Edwardsville 62026.

NEW ROUTE FOR THE STATE FAIR PARADE

The Illinois State Fair opening day parade, to be held Thursday, Aug. 9, has been rerouted to include downtown Springfield. Staging of the units will be held at Iles Park at 7 a.m. The parade will set off at 9:30 a.m. from the corner of Sixth and Myrtle, and proceed north on Sixth Street to its destination of Sixth and Washington. The reviewing stand will be located at its traditional site on the old State Capitol mall.

Granite City, pays the down payment on his $25,000 bid for the former Madison Junior High building and accompanying land. Madison Superintendent of Schools John Palchiff is at center. The area covers an entire city block between Second and Third Streets in Madison. Jerry Maeras, Venice Township tax collector, was the only other person bidding on the junior high property. Both sales are subject to approval by the Madison School Board.

Completes course School by telephone

Airman Thomas C. Groshong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce M. Groshong, 3313 Princeton Drive, has completed Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base at San Antonio, Tex.

The airman is remaining at Lackland for specialized training in the security police field.

LOOT APARTMENT
About $9 in cash, four cigarette lighters and a wristwatch are the only things known missing after a burglary at the apartment of F.H. Liddell, 405 Madison Ave., Apt. 4, Madison, which was discovered at 3:30 a.m. Saturday. The door was kicked open.

Going to school by telephone, the dream of every lazy Monday morning scholar, has become a real way to learn for water treatment operators training at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The operators, who work in water and waste treatment plants from Quincy to Rockford to Marion, can go to school in their own city and get the same lessons by the same teacher as if they were at the University. The secret is TeleNet, an educational telephone network linking county extension centers through the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service. The system works like a conference telephone.

Don Anderson, coordinator of the Environmental Resources Training Center at SIUE, the water operator training center for the state, said local classrooms are set up in various extension service offices around the state, each with a TeleNet terminal, amplifiers and microphones. When the system goes on, the operators hear the same lesson on using pump curves, figuring water supplies or understanding the new state rules and regulations as the master teacher behind the desk in Champaign. At the end of the lecture, any trainee can make a comment that will also be heard in Ottawa or ask a question that may be answered in Belleville. "The only thing missing is the face-to-face contact," Anderson said. The classes began May 9 and have had a good response, Anderson said. Each local classroom has a local teacher who may show a series of slides complementing the lesson or lead a group discussion or question-and-answer after the formal lesson. "It is a complete training program," he emphasized. "We are just putting a new wrinkle in it."

"Now Hear This"

You can't always believe what you read in the paper, hear on the radio, or on TV. The reason is obvious: the stories about high food prices are based on government surveys and are always at least 30 to 60 days old. We react fast to changing market conditions and that's why our prices are down. Many items in our meat department are going to quit going up? The answer to the question "when are food prices going to quit going up?" is they quit two weeks ago. And here at Schermer's we have this evidence to prove it.

Had enough rain for awhile?

I hope it is finally done raining. I for one have had enough of nature's tears.

Whenever it rains, I find myself totally unprepared for wet. My umbrella is always where I am not.

I am made of sugar and would melt if hit by a raindrop, which could explain my lack of size. I have been drenched no less than five times in the last week.

I have found out a few things about rain. One thing is sure: it likes me. It falls on me whenever it can, sneaking up on me when I am not looking.

It seems to know when I have left my umbrella in the car and have just walked out of the office going to the car, or vice versa.

Another thing I have found is that newspapers make lousy umbrellas. I still have an article on my left arm from the newspaper washing off of the paper.

I have noticed that it has rained every time I have worn my new suede shoes to work. The shoes have high heels and I absolutely cannot run in them, not if I don't want to break my ankle. Needless to say, I got wet.

Also needless to say, my new shoes are now slick suede.

My car is not all that fond of rain, either. It hates puddles, stalling every time it is forced to enter one. Unfortunately, when it rains too much downtown, Delmar Avenue becomes Lake Delmar. I stayed at the office until the flood went away.

Rascule, my darling little shaggy dog, has had 17 baths in the last week. He stays tied up outside during the day and he got wet. He tangles so badly when he gets wet. I spent a lot of time combing a damp dog.

I rewashed the same load of clothes five times last week. I would wash clothes at night and hang them out to dry in the morning. Upon returning home, I would take the rain soaked clothes, complete with leaves and buggies, off the line and rewash them.

The boys' tent, which is set up in the back yard, will never be the same. I think it sank about two feet into the ground. Ever see a tent with a sunken living room?

The only ones I know who like the rain are the kids. They don't mind getting soaked to the skin. They think it's fun. But what do they know?

This week, I intend to wash no clothes, nor drive my car, nor wear my shiny suede shoes. I won't have time. I have a dog and two kids with colds.

State's nuclear generators safe

Governor James R. Thompson said Thursday he has received a report from the Ad Hoc Investigating Committee of the Illinois Commission on Atomic Energy. Thompson appointed the Committee after the accident this spring, at Three Mile Island, Pa.

The report concludes there is no safety need to close nuclear power plants in Illinois.

It made 49 recommendations directed at the state, the Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC), and utility companies.

The committee's conclusion was based in part on the "substantial operating differences between the Three Mile Island plant and Illinois nuclear generating plants."

"Governor James Thompson has done much to restore the credibility of state government with his courageous statements on energy," Illinois Manufacturers Association President Orville V. Bergen said Thursday.

Bergen, head of the largest state manufacturers association in the nation, praised the governor's energy speech of July 24 before the National Urban League convention in Chicago.

In his energy speech, the governor specifically endorsed the use "for the foreseeable future" of nuclear power, and the increased use of Illinois coal, even if that means some relaxation of environmental standards.

"To risk the wrath of the environmentalist forces which have blocked the wider use of coal, stopped expansion of nuclear power, and placed our energy lifeline in the grasp of unstable, non-democratic Middle East states is an act of remarkable political courage," said Bergen.

The Illinois Manufacturers Association is comprised of 5,900 industrial firms with operations in Illinois, 71 percent of which employ fewer than 100 persons in the state.

Drama presents Biblical lesson

Walter Schafer of 3320 Johnson Road, Granite City, and his family participated in a convention of over 16,000 held in late summer at the Checkerdome in St. Louis. A computer consultant in the metropolitan area, he was not there learning more about computers.

He and his family performed before an audience of over 15,000 in a Bible drama entitled, "Be Transformed by Making Your Mind Over," directed by L. F. Jarka of Troy, Ill.

The convention was that of the Jehovah's Witnesses.

The drama depicted a point of the Israelites' sojourn from Egypt to the Promised Land when many of the men became immorally involved with Baal-worshipping Moabite women. This event, recorded in the Bible book of Numbers, Chapter 25, provided the setting for the full-costume drama.

With the ancient Israelites' historical experience presented as an object lesson, intermittent modern day scene portrayed the story of Alex, a Christian youth, faced with peer pressure to conform to pleasure-seeking attitudes.

At the drama's conclusion, the chairman of this part of the program, stated, "The assault of this dying world against God's principles is stronger than ever. Human standards change; Jehovah does not."

"Anything that turns us or draws us away from what is clearly good is a step in the wrong direction. Paul's counsel was sound for his generation, and even more noteworthy in this generation."

"Quit being fashioned after this system of things, but be transformed by making your mind over, that you may prove to yourselves the good and acceptable and perfect will of God."

Romans 12:1,2.

The drama was followed by a mass baptism of 171 at the Forest Park Community College.

Tour Saturday at Mounds

A one-day open house tour will be conducted Saturday at Cahokia Mounds Historic Site west of Collinsville on U.S. Route 40 to give visitors an opportunity to inspect the six square mile area that once was occupied by an Indian culture that is believed to have been made up of tens of thousands.

The tour will begin at 10:30 a.m. and continue until 6 p.m. Visitors will be taken by bus throughout the park grounds. Archaeologists will lead the bus tours and explain present excavations and what they hope to discover.

The program is being sponsored by the Cahokia
Mounds Museum Society.
Art and craft demonstrations, movies about Indian life and Indian dancing will be presented throughout the day.

Trailriders $1,350 money show Saturday

The Trailriders Saddle Club will sponsor its annual
"Money Show" at 6:30 p.m.
Saturday at the club arena,
located on Chouteau Slough Road at Rock Road, near the Chain of Rocks Canal levee.

Heavy rains forced postponement of the show from last Saturday night's scheduled date until this weekend, Kathy Bargiel, Trailriders secretary, explained.

Contestants in the show will compete for a guaranteed purse of $1,350.
A gate fee of $1 per person will be charged to view the show, but children 12 years and under will be admitted free.

At other shows throughout the season, the club invites spectators to attend without charge.

Riders wishing to compete may register immediately before competition starts at the registration booth, Miss Bargiel said.

Several special features are planned during the show for both the participants and viewers, it was learned.

Cash awards will be presented to the top contestants in 15 different events.

In the halting class three divisions, prizes will go to those finishing first through third.

First through fifth place finishers in 10 general events will receive cash awards,
Miss Bargiel said.

On a trial basis, two additional events have been included on this year's show agenda—ladies gaited country pleasure and open English pleasure—with prize money going to first through fourth place contestants.

Competition is open to all riders, whether club members or not.

Further information concerning events and requirements may be secured from club officers.

He didn't listen... to the Rules of the Road

By CATHEY JAMISON
of the Press-Record

Once upon a time, in the land of Nod, there lived a little boy who loved to ride his bicycle. But the boy, whose name was George, didn't follow the rules of the road.

The boy's father would tell him, "George, you must obey the traffic signs. They are not just for cars, they are for you and your bicycle as well."

But George never listened. He was always dodging cars. He would not keep to the right and never rode single file when he rode with his friends. He loved to show off and cars were constantly beeping their horns at the boy riding down the middle of the street no-handed.

He loved to ride in heavy traffic, something his father told him never to do. He would not yield to cars, even though they were bigger, faster, heavier and harder to maneuver than his bike. He figured it was the people in the cars who should look out for him.

George loved to see how close he could come to a parked car without hitting it. The idea that one of those cars might swing open suddenly and hit him never crossed his mind.

He would race out into the street out of driveways and alleys without looking and never used the hand he taught him that his father had taught him.

George loved to play sidewalk tag with his bike. He would laugh when pedestrians would have to jump aside to avoid being hit by the boy on the shiny red bicycle.

The little boy who loved to ride was thoughtless of others and careless in the ways of safety.

Then one day the boy and his bicycle came into direct contact with one of the big heavy automobiles he had challenged for the right of way. They took George to the hospital and the broken bicycle to the bike cemetery.

As the boy sat in his hospital bed, his leg in a cast suspended from a pulley, he listened to his father for the first time.

"George, I tried to warn you. I taught you the rules of the road, but you did not obey them. Now you have no bicycle and you are hurt," his father said. "Now you may never ride a bicycle again, it's the law here in Nod."

The little boy cried and cried. He had a broken leg and his bike was destroyed. "Oh," he cried, "if only I had listened and obeyed! Now I will never get to ride my bicycle again!"

The penalty for breaking the rules that apply in the land of Nod may not apply here, but there is danger in not obeying.

The moral of this story is simple. Obey the rules of the road and what happened to George will never happen to you.

And, if you obey the rules of the road, choose a safe bicycle, learn how to ride it correctly, stay alert, and ride defensively, you may live happily ever after.

Endorse permit for repair shop

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals is recommending that the county board approve a request by Mrs. Norman Hahn and Edward Kiselka for a special use permit to operate an auto repair and body shop in an existing building at Edwardsville Road and Staunton Road near Madison.

It is recommended the permit limit hours of operation from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Mondays through Fridays and be for the sole use of Edward Kiselka. The property is zoned R-4 and is in Nantok Township. The zoning board has postponed action on a request by Alma Walk and George for a special use permit to place a mobile home at 4920 Carl St., Hills Terrace Annex, Chouteau Township, since the petitioners failed to appear at a public hearing on the site July 24.

WARRANT ARREST
William G. Thomas, 30, of 2021 Washington Ave., was arrested at his home at 4:10 p.m. Thursday and was served with a warrant alleging failure to appear in court on a deceptive practices charge. He was released on $100 cash bond.

2. Make an oral statement at the hearing.
3. Prepare a written statement and mail it to Illinois Department of Transportation, 9300 St. Clair Avenue, P. Box 2068, Fairview Heights, Ill. 62208 by Sept. 4, 1979.

Once after the design public hearing has been held and the review process has been completed will a decision be made as to how, or if, the proposed highway is to be constructed. At that time, a legal notice will be published announcing the decision.

The proposed action is to construct a fully controlled access highway facility within Madison County, beginning just north of an approved intersection with Interstate 55-70 near Collinsville and running north for approximately 5.5 miles to existing Interstate 270 near Madison.

The proposed action also includes a connector to the south access road leading to Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The two alternate alignments for this project have been identified as Lines E and F. Both alternatives would be six lanes wide, separated by an earth median.

Both alignments would have interchanges with the Granite City-Collinsville Road (C.H. 35) and Illinois Route 162.

North of existing Interstate 270, a connector would be provided to SIUE from either alternate alignment.

up of tax receipts on gasoline, tires, trucks, parts, etc.

The Interstate System is financed with 90 percent federal money and 10 percent state money, while most other systems are 75 percent federal and 25 percent state funded.

The present federal-state relationship in constructing Federal-Aid highways was shaped to a large degree by legislation enacted by Congress in 1916 and 1921, in which the federal government, through the Department of Transportation, the Federal Highway Administration (FHWA), provides guidance to the state highway agencies in developing their highway facilities.

Each state, through its respective highway agency, has the primary responsibility for planning and developing its individual projects.

The states decide whether an individual project which is on the Federal-Aid highway system will be developed whether an individual project which is on the Federal-Aid highway system will be developed using Federal-Aid highway funds.

If federal funds are to be used, then the Federal Highway Administration is responsible for review and approval at key stages of the project's development.

After the state highway agency has completed studies which determine the need for a project, location studies are then made to determine which location will provide the maximum amount of service while, at the same time, minimizing the facility's impact on man and his location.

basic design stage and into the Plans, Specifications and Estimates (PS&E) stage.

After the design work is completed, the state highway agency awards the construction contract and supervises the construction. After completion, the state highway agency maintains the facilities solely at state expense.

If Federal-Aid highway funds are to be used in a project, formal federal approvals are usually made at the location, design and PS&E stages, and the project is monitored during the construction.

The state pays the contractors and is reimbursed by the federal government for its share of the project.

Also, the Federal Highway Administration has established procedures to insure that social, economic, and environmental effects of highway development receive adequate consideration during all stages of the planning process.

Among the factors singled out for specific consideration are: recreation and parks, aesthetics, public health and safety, residential and neighborhood character, location; religious institutions and practices; conservation (including erosion, sedimentation, wildlife, and natural ecology of the area); general and historic landmarks; noise, air, and water pollution; multiple use of space; replacement housing; education (including the disruption of school district operations); and displacement of families and businesses.

In addition, the Federal Highway Administration has established procedures to insure civil rights and equal employment opportunity for minority groups. Through its headquarters Office of Civil Rights and its inspectors in the field, FHWA is constantly alert to any instances of discrimination or lack of equal employment opportunity for minorities.

Neither will be tolerated in the Federal-Aid highway program.

Procedures are also established to provide for relocation assistance and payments for those displaced by a highway project as briefly explained on the following page.

Federal procedures also require public hearings and other coordination procedures to insure the involvement of other agencies and the public in the planning, location, and design of a highway.

Arrest teenager

Madison police arrested a 16-year-old boy at 2:40 a.m. Saturday and charged him with disobeying a police officer, resisting arrest and violating curfew. The boy allegedly emerged from the Bastille Lounge, 1316 Madison Ave., carrying an open bottle of beer. Despite police warnings to stay away from the lounge, he returned moments later and refused to leave, officers alleged. They said they had to wrestle with him to arrest him and he attempted to kick the officers, it was alleged.

HALTS BURGLARY

Three teenagers attempting to break into a vacant house on Snowbird Lane were frightened away by a neighbor during the weekend. The youths had removed a pane from the rear window and opened the window. It did not appear entry had been gained, according to Madison County sheriff's deputies.

No. 74 34 8 2 9 16Love plant combats cancer in animal tests

The mistletoe plant, a traditional encouragement of kissing, is delivering a less friendly message to cancer cells in preliminary animal tests. It was noted at the 1979 Chemical Congress of the American Chemical Society and the Chemical Society of Japan.

Prized by the ancient druids as a sexual rejuvenant and carried down through the ages in medicinal folklore, the mistletoe is providing scientists with a new series of alkaline extracts effective against leukemia in mice and cultured cancer cells, said Dr. Tasneem A. Khwaja of the University of Southern California, Los Angeles. Co-authors are Drs. Janet C. Varven, Stephanie Pentecost and Hema Pandey.

Mistletoe extracts prolong the lives of leukemic mice by 29 percent and completely inhibit the growth of cancer cells in laboratory tests at a concentration of just 230 millionths of a gram per milliliter.

These tests are designed to tell scientists which anticancer candidates are worthy of continued testing, the authors report in their paper.

Cancer cells generally are in laboratory cultures after treatment with the extract. Even at the lowest doses, more than 90 percent of the cancer cells are killed, the authors found.

The ability of some proteins found in mistletoe to combat tumors encouraged the authors to probe the plant for different kinds of active compounds.

"A special preparation of European mistletoe is available under the trade name Iscador as an injectable preparation. This preparation has been used for the treatment of postoperative breast, colon, stomach, rectum and cervix carcinomas in Germany and Austria," they say.

The European preparation is based on proteins, but the new compounds now reported are known as alkaloids for their alkaline properties.

The authors are the first to show anticancer activity in mistletoe alkaloids.

"The medicinal properties of mistletoe include mainly domestic remedies — as a tonic in nervous disorders, delirium, hysteria, meningitis, urinary disorders and heart disease, and for many complaints arising from weakening and depressed states of the nervous system."

"The powdered mistletoe leaves and twigs have been used as a specific treatment for epilepsy," the authors note.

Obtaining enough of the promising extract is a problem. One kilogram of mistletoe yields a mere 2.6 grams of extract.

The extract comprises 11 fractions, of which only two appear to be active.

Better methods to separate and identify the active components are under development, Dr. Khwaja said in a telephone interview.

Mistletoe is found all over the world. It is a parasite that prefers to grow on deciduous trees such as apples, ash, hawthorn, lime and acorn.

Championship beckons
GC roller skating duo

By VALERIE EVENDEN

of the Press-Record

Two of the hysate metropolitan area's most talented roller skaters, Tom Hansen and Michele Dickerson of Granite City, will be among the nation's top skaters competing at the National Roller Skating Championships in Fort Worth, Tex.

Competition starts Friday and continues through Wednesday, Aug. 15.

The local skaters became eligible to compete in the national event by placing second in the Sophomore Division at the Central Regional Championships recently held in Lincoln, Neb.

Because of their placement at the regional meet, Tom and Michele will move up in the Junior division in the national contest.

The higher division of competition requires a greater degree of difficult and more intricate movements in their skating routines. It was learned.

Tom already is classified as a Junior Figure Skater because of a placement he earned at the 1978 regional championships.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. (Lois) Hansen, who graduated from Granite City High School South.

Tom, 18, has been skating for the last 9½ years and is a qualified judge of dance and figure skating events.

Michele, also 18, will start her senior year in late August at Granite City High School North.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry (Carmen) Dickerson of Granite City. Both Michele and Tom are

They have been skating as a team since 1976 and have consistently placed first in state roller skating championship meets and in national tournaments, the latter sponsored by skating organizations in different states.

The Granite City skaters work hard to perfect their routines. They practice diligently four days each week for several hours at a time. Michele and Tom also continue to take lessons, learning new and more complicated movements, while polishing their established skating program.

Their instructor is Carmen Dickerson, a member of the Society of Roller Skating Teachers of America, who will accompany her star pupils to Fort Worth.

Michael Watson
joins Marines

Michael Watson, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. James (Wanda) Watson, 20 Victoria Drive, has joined the U.S. Marines and will be stationed at Camp Pendleton, Calif., for 11 weeks of basic training.

Watson, a 1978 graduate of Granite City High School North, is planning on pursuing demotion studies.

His sister, PFC Marilyn Watson, is stationed in Newport, Va., in the U.S. Army.

Watson is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Scott Watson, who live at 2041 Johnson Road, which was discovered Monday.

Three cases of candy, three bags of potato chips and five frozen bananas are the only things known missing after a burglary at 2041 Johnson Road, which was discovered Monday.

Bond sale soon for home loans

Granite City's home mortgage loan program under which the city will guarantee low-interest home loans is expected to get

Fined $500
for burglary

David I. Zeff, 36, of the 2400 block of Central Ave., has been sentenced to serve three years of probation and to pay a $500 fine after pleading guilty to burglary.

Circuit Judge Harold R. Clark pronounced sentence. Zeff allegedly burglarized Leroy's A&J Market, 4089 Pontoon Road, Pontoon Beach, Jan. 25.

Pontoon Beach police were called by a neighbor of the market and were told the burglar was in progress. They found a ladder standing on the west side of the building and climbed to the roof.

While a Pontoon Beach officer and a Madison County sheriff's deputy were on the roof, Zeff heard another deputy yell, "Halt," and saw a man run from the building east toward the front of the market.

Zeff was found in a garage in the 4000 block of Lake Drive a short time later after a search involving the Pontoon Beach and Granite City police, Illinois State Police troopers and county deputies, according to official reports.

MOWING CHANGE WILL SAVE FUEL
A new town department of Transportation policy to eliminate one of three mowing cycles, per year, along highways in the state, can save an estimated 100,000 gallons of gasoline each year, DOT spokesman

Barry Burk said in addition to the change in frequency of mowing, all state and U.S. designated highways will be mowed only to the ditch line.

Areas where motorists' visibility may be affected will be monitored and mowed as needed, according to Burk. While saving fuel, the new policy will also help prevent soil erosion, reduce maintenance costs, protect native flowers, and provide better cover for nesting wildlife, he added.

Bond sale soon for home loans

Mayor Schulz noted that this legislation was passed last week, clearing the way for Granite City to go ahead with the home loan plan.

Schulz said that he was accompanied to New York last week by City Attorney Lance Callis and Arvil Taylor, administrative aide to the mayor, to meet with representatives of Standard & Poor bonding authorities concerning interest ratings for the revenue bonds that are to be sold.

A rating report is expected early next week, possibly Monday, the mayor said. Once the bond interest rates are established, the city may proceed with the sale of the revenue bonds.

Sale of the bonds could be completed in a two-week period, the mayor said. Since the bonds are tax-free, a lower than usual interest rate may be charged for home loans. Local lending agencies will handle the loans through regular mortgage procedures, with the loans provided from the bond proceeds.

Continental Bank in Chicago is designated as the holding bank for the money and will process applications taken by the local lending agencies.

Of the $10 million in bonds to be sold, about $300,000 will go for brokers fees, bonding attorneys and other expenses involved in the bond preparation and sale.

This will leave $8.7 million to be used in financing low-interest home mortgages.

Children's Home, 100 years old, is still busy

A resolution to honor the 100 years of service to children by the Catholic Children's Home of Alton has been adopted by the Illinois General Assembly.

In a ceremony held in Springfield, the resolution was formally presented to Fr. Maurice J. Quilligan, present superintendent of that facility, by State Rep. John F. Sharp.

On behalf of the legislators, Rep. Sharp stated, "We feel it is extraordinarily fitting that your centennial observance coincides with the proclamation by Congress declaring 1979 as the International Year of the Child."

"We acknowledge what has been achieved in this past century and commend you for the contributions to the lives of the children you have served during that time."

On hand at the presentation ceremony with Fr. Quilligan were Sister Frances, head of the residential department operated by the Sisters of the Precious Blood, and six of the children who presently reside at the home. Founded in 1879 as a "small orphanage" with 20 infants, the facility has mushroomed into the largest private children's home in Southern Illinois.

Over 5,000 neglected, deprived and abandoned children have been cared for in the 100 years.

The residential department reached its peak capacity during the "depression years" and was aptly described in those days as having "wall to wall kids."

While the residential department is still in existence, the last decade has developed a special education department as well.

Children with learning disabilities, multiple handicaps, and social and emotional behavior problems receive special attention.

A Thanksgiving Mass and open house is being planned for Sept. 29 to commemorate the centennial.

Carpenters recapturing residential work; emphasis on quality, low cost

By SHERWOOD KERKER

Labor Tribune. A contractor pointed over to his three-man crew and shook his head sadly at Terry Thweatt.

"Look at them. The one using the skill saw knows a little about it. The others can't use it at all. Just about all I can use them for is bull work."

"But, I bid so low on this job that the developer just couldn't turn me down. It means I've got to do a lot of work myself. I'm a carpenter and a damned good one, but I can't bid at my level and hire anyone with any skills."

"According to Thweatt, the organizer for residential contracting of the Madison County & Vicinity Carpenters District Council, the man with the skill saw appeared to be about 20 years old. The other two could have been as young as 15."

"This was an actual scene described by Thweatt. It took place somewhere in the United States where ill-trained or completely untrained men (or boys) are building the houses for which people pay tens of thousands of dollars and in which they expect to live for the rest of their lives."

"The problem of poor quality in residential construction was raised a year ago at a convention of the National Association of Home Builders by Federal Trade Commission member Elizabeth Hanford Dole. She told the convention delegates:

"New home defects now rank among the top consumer problems in this country. The Council of Better Business Bureaus reports almost 5,000 complaints about new home defects in 1977 alone, up 40 percent from the year before."

Threatening the imposition of broad federal controls in this largely unregulated industry, Dole said, "For too many Americans the dream home has turned into a nightmare."

Some industry insiders believe the decline in housing construction quality is a direct result of the successful invasion of the field by non-union contractors.

John Ubaldi, secretary-treasurer and business manager of the Madison County & Vicinity Carpenters District Council, AFL-CIO, agrees that an invasion took place, but feels the unions and the organized industry were largely responsible for it.

"I guess you could say that we gradually abandoned it (residential construction) and the non-union and CIU people rushed in to fill up a vacuum," he told the Labor Tribune. (CIU stands for Congress of Independent Unions).

Though designated a union by the Department of Labor, the organization provides little if anything in collective bargaining services and continually raids organized labor.

ago when "frankly, there wasn't enough manpower to go around. We didn't have the journeymen to fill all the commercial jobs and the housing construction, too. There was too much industrial and commercial work underway and we simply didn't have the manpower to go around."

So in Southern Illinois as in the rest of the nation, unskilled, non-union men entered the field and a decline in the quality of workmanship began.

It turned into a whirlpool which eventually had an impact on the entire industry. Terry Thweatt described it this way:

"In would come a carpenter, a trained man, but he would bring an untrained crew. He would get four or five others, none of whom had any training in the skill at all, and he'd do the best he could. And remember, he didn't have as much background or training in the skills required to build a home as the man who taught him."

So, for about 15 years, this cycle has been repeated until today virtually no one with any formal apprenticeship is now on the job in residential construction in Southern Illinois or in most other areas of the nation.

"I'm trying to stop that cycle," Thweatt said. "In fact, the only thing most non-union contractors have to sell in this day is price."

When the young, unskilled, and untrained men, including those signed up by CIU, entered the field, they worked for only a fraction of the wages and little, if any, of the benefits that union journeymen and apprentices earn.

But, Ubaldi told the Labor Tribune, low rates do not guarantee low costs. "Not only are our journeymen and apprentices the most skilled workers in the world, they are the most productive because of their training and experience makes them productive."

"What I do save is a contractor realizes from low rates is lost due to the low productivity of workers who have not gone through the normal apprenticeship programs of the AFL-CIO."

With this background, the Madison County & Vicinity Carpenters District Council organized CHOP (Carpenters Housing Organizing Program). It has been some years on the drawing board, but was only launched last spring when John Ubaldi went to the Labor Tribune Board of Realtors with a proposal. They listened, and one of them later told the Labor Tribune:

"What I have to say applies to just about the entire east side market. This is a crap on a gosh market because the economic factors of high interest, no money and inflation. "There is no chance for a large developer to get started. So, the splinter people enter into the contracting business."

John Sobel is a Granite City real estate businessman and an officer in Eastland, Inc. Developers. He also said: "As a result, we are constantly presented with a substandard product."

Concerning CHOP, which he and other realtors have embraced, Sobel predicted: "Frankly, the CHOP program will provide some of the end product, and with the new wage and benefit program for members of the District Council," he added, "We will now be able to offer a quality product at a reasonable price."

Sobel believes this can create the volume needed to attract "large developers." More houses, more homes and more jobs.

Ubaldi told the Labor Tribune, "Terry (Thweatt) did a lot of (CHOP) originally, but we just sort of played around with it for a long time without really getting started."

"It took a few trips to Washington (headquarters of the International Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, AFL-CIO), but we finally got busy with it last fall."

Working with the contractors with which it holds agreements, the Council's Executive Board drafted an entirely new labor agreement, one which established an $8.20 per hour rate for residential construction.

The regular $11.58 per hour rate paid journeymen remains the rate for all commercial and industrial work.

The particulars of the new residential agreement were discussed thoroughly with the membership prior to a ratification vote.

It was explained that the new agreement would apply only to new members in residential work who would remain non-union (or CIU) unless they were organized by the Council. Journeymen who wish to accept jobs in the residential housing may do so and may voluntarily accept the lower rate.

"This is our start in the campaign to recapture residential construction for the AFL-CIO. Not a single man was a member of our union before. These men are now helping to support our union with their dues."

Contractor employees pay dues at a rate of 2 1/4 percent per month. The self-employed pay $20 per month. There are two basic objectives of CHOP:

1-To organize the residential construction industry.

2-To improve the quality of workmanship in residential construction by improving the skills of those who are organized.

"Now, don't get me wrong," Ubaldi said. "While it's true our AFL-CIO apprenticeship program trains the best journeymen, carpenters in the world, we have found a lot of hard working and potentially skillful youngsters out there among those we've organized."

"And, we've found contractors who are working themselves to death to put quality in their products."

One of these is Host Homes Limited, a firm which is now constructing several homes in the $65,000 to $70,000 range in Highland and has signed a labor agreement with the District. It is co-owned and operated by Jerry Homann and Mike West.

According to the agreement between the union and Host Homes Limited, its employees have been slotted into an apprenticeship rate according to their experience and an evaluation of their skills conducted jointly by the contractor and the union.

The formal apprenticeship program of the Carpenters District Council and the contractors with which it holds agreements is now available to the new members which Thweatt organized.

One of these is Dale Morten, a part-time employee of Holt Homes and a full-time fire fighter in the Highland area who told the Labor Tribune he is "union oriented" and is now thinking of becoming a full-time tradesman, even though he is 33.

He has had several years experience in home building. "If all of it non-union, but he likes the work, and if the work continues in house building so that there is steady employment, I would want to go ahead and take the apprenticeship program to become a journeyman."

Two younger colleagues, Greg Frey, 21 and Dave Daier, 18, are looking forward to the apprenticeship program and eventually to journeymen cards.

Because the new organizing effort is designed to improve the quality of residential construction and to maintain competitive construction costs, the union has added another interim function before eventually, it is presumed, it can rely exclusively on the skills of apprentices and journeymen it has trained itself.

"We inspect the projects. We make sure they are done properly," Thweatt said. And, if they are, the union provides the new union $20,000 BOND Daniel Campbell, 23, Rural Route One, Box 97, Highway 162 is being held in Madison County jail on a charge of forgery, pending the posting of $20,000 bail. He was arrested by Pontoon Beach police at 1:15 p.m. Saturday. He appeared in Monday morning before a judge. Campbell allegedly stole personal checks and cashed them at one in the amount of $100.

BOY ADMITTED

Daryl Coleman, 9, of 205 Weaver St., Venice was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 5:28 p.m. Sunday. He allegedly was hit by a car and suffered a fractured nose and possible head injury. He is being investigated by the incident. Officers said they did not find out about the injury until he was brought to the hospital by his mother. An effort to locate the boy's mother.

contractor and the agent who will eventually handle the sale of the property a sign to post, designating that the project is under construction and approved by skilled union tradesmen.

Last week, the Labor Tribune accompanied John Ubaldi and Terry Thweatt on such an inspection in a three-house construction project underway by Host Homes in Highland.

Eying the framing speculatively, Ubaldi concluded, "that's pretty good work."

Thweatt, who has been on the site of many non-union construction projects, agreed that Host Homes had earned the quality control approval of the union.

"I've seen a lot of problems which will eventually cause home buyers money and problems. One problem I've seen is that two, short footings, foundations out of square and other things," he said.

Actually, the union quality control monitoring of the new construction is to some extent providing a service which is not provided by government, "but should be," Ubaldi asserted.

Some counties in Illinois have county building codes which provide a general umbrella. Others don't, or have inadequate codes. Some municipalities don't have them. Some do.

Most of the unincorporated hamlets and rural sections have no building code authority at all when it comes to home construction. There is no conformity in enforcement even where codes exist.

"On top of this," the District Council's top officer told the Labor Tribune, "there is no licensing requirement for residential contractors in Illinois which would prove an ability to do the job."

"Commercial contractors must post bond, but there is no bonding requirement for residential contractors. Put this all together and the consumer is suffering. And that is one of our concerns."

"Besides the fact that we want to return this industry to organized labor, we want to provide the public top quality, dependable homes. After all, we live in them. We are the public."

Sunday racing at Fairmount

"A new twist in sports entertainment will now be available to area horse race fans with the presentation of thoroughbred racing at Fairmount Park Sunday, Aug. 5," Bob Graham, the track's general manager, said this week. The gates open at 12 noon, and post time for the first race is 2 p.m.

"History is being made at the venerable Collinsville track, as this initial Sunday of daytime racing marks the first such program in the track's 54-year history. A total of 10 races will be run," Graham said. Fairmount Park is reached on I-70 via the Black Lane exit.

Arrest brothers

Ernest W. Winnie, 29, of 3909 Spruce St., and his brother, Donald L. Winnie Jr., 31, of 2817 Harding Ave., were charged Monday afternoon with battery, stemming from a June 15 incident at Holt's Bar and Lounge, 846 Niedringhaus Ave., in which two men were injured.

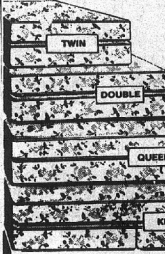

Kenneth Taylor, 2239a Washington Ave., and David A. Clark, 2808 Buxton Ave., suffered large cuts to their heads when they were struck in the tavern, police said. One was struck with a beer mug and the other was struck with a pool cue, which broke into three pieces. Granite City detectives took the case to a warrant officer at the Madison County state's attorney's office, but the officer declined to authorize more stringent charges and the Winnie brothers were charged in city battery complaints, authorities said.

THROWN FROM CAR Gregory Pryor, 17, of 4913 Willow Ave., suffered abrasions to his back and chest and pain to his ribs when he was thrown from an auto on Missouri Avenue near A.O. Smith Corp. during the weekend. He was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and was released.

Major lawsuits declining, semi-annual report shows

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

Do more people file lawsuits now than in previous years? If so, the semi-annual report of the Madison County circuit clerk's office shows little evidence of it.

The report was issued for Moses W. Harrison II, chief judge of the Third Judicial Circuit of Madison and Bond Counties, by Circuit Clerk Willard V. "Butch" Portell and shows decreases in the numbers of major suits filed over the first half of each of the last three years.

The numbers of lawsuits seeking more than $15,000 actually have declined in the three-year comparison, according to the report. From December 1976 through May 1977, a total of 583 major lawsuits were filed. In the same period of the following fiscal year, that number dropped to 567. During the period December 1978 through May this year, the number of major suits filed dropped even further to 547.

While the number of major lawsuits is declining, smaller law cases seeking up to $15,000 have been increasing. There were 443 lesser suits filed in the December through May period of the 1976-77 year, 478 in the same period of 1977-78, and the number jumped to 644 in the six months ending last May, a 35 percent jump from last year to this year. Excluding traffic cases, 10,410 lawsuits were filed from December last year to May 1979, a jump from 8,887 in the same period a year earlier. However, the December through May period of 1977-78 was low when compared to the same period of 1976-77, when cases, excluding traffic, totaled 9,556.

Traffic cases have shown a steady increase over the first half of the last three fiscal years, climbing from 14,661 in 1976-77 to 15,844 the first half of the next year and then to 16,079 in the six month period ending this May, the report shows.

Tax dispute cases show dramatic climbs during the period, starting with 26 in the first six months two years ago, climbing to 167 in the first half of last year and then to 262 in the six month period which ended in May. The number of cases disposed of by the courts and the circuit clerk's office climbed eight percent in the December through May period of 1978-79, the report shows, as 25,850 cases were disposed of, compared to 23,973 in the same months of the previous year.

Fines collected by the circuit clerk's office increased 10 percent in the period ending this May, as compared to the previous December through May period.

A total of $481,519 was collected from December 1978 through May 1979, up from $434,304 in the period which ended in May 1978. County fines, primarily from traffic arrests by the sheriff's department and the state police increased 28 percent, from $144,790 in the December through May period of 1977-78, to $186,343 in the six months ending this May, according to Portell.

CAR OVERTURNS

Granite City police are attempting to determine who was driving an auto which was northbound on Route 3 Monday, skidded sideways, struck a curb and went into the median where it rolled over, knocking down a one-way sign. The driver abandoned the car. Police found it was registered to a Ferguson, Mo., man who was contacted, but denied driving the auto. He said he loaned it to a friend and would aid police in finding the friend, officers said. He had not responded since, they added.

2 hurt as car, bicycle collide

Jimmie White, 16, of 4908 Miller Ave., and Maria Willard, 8, of 4911 Hills St., were injured when an auto driven by White struck Miss Willard's bicycle on Mueller Avenue at Herbert Street at 12:55 p.m. Monday. After hitting the bicycle, the auto continued across the intersection and struck a utility pole, according to Madison County sheriff's deputies. Both of the injured were taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

White suffered cuts to his right cheek, an abrasion to his right hand, pain to his back and a possible concussion. He was admitted for observation. Miss Willard had a broken left leg and abrasions to both legs and her left shoulder and was admitted.

Mid-summer bluegrass

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT

Area Adviser, Horticulture

Hot, soggy weather in August is the right combination to produce a lot of dead spots in lawns.

Melting-out disease (Helminthosporium) causes a lot of leaf spot on bluegrass and ryegrass during cool, wet weather. In HOT SOGGY weather, this same fungus complex may kill scattered plants in your lawn or create an epidemic.

In either case, the affected plants create the appearance of dying from drought. If you water these "dry spots," the extra water maintains an ideal environment for the fungus and the problem gets worse.

When an epidemic hits, treating with a fungicide is probably too late. Continue to mow at 2½ inches or taller. Where feasible, collect the clippings to prevent a buildup of the fungus on the clippings. Do not fertilize in July and August.

If your lawn is partly killed by melting-out disease, plan on reseeding in September. Use new varieties such as Adelphi, Glade, Majestic, Touchdown, Vicia, Bonnie Blue, A-34, Parade or Baron because these have good resistance to the disease and will prevent an epidemic in future years.

If you are uncertain about the cause of these dead spots dig up a plate-sized plug. If white grubs are the cause, you will find the roots chewed-off.

If lawn webworm is the cause, the grass blades will be chewed off. If melting-out disease is the cause, you will not be able to find anything in particular, except that the plants are dead.
